DRY BUREAU BILL SCORES IN ILLINOIS

Senate Passes Measure of Anti-Saloon Leaguers for Enforcement Agency

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) May 6.—With two votes to spare the Illinois Senate today passed the Anti-Saloon League's bill to create a State prohibition enforcement bureau headed by a commissioner selected by the Attorney-General.

A duplicate bill already has been defeated in the House of Representatives, falling one vote short of the constitutional majority, but the Senate measure known as the Barbour bill, now goes into the lower house for action.

Emphatic protests against consideration of a proposed law once disposed of by a final vote on its passage are expected in the House, but the Antisaloon League representatives are confident that they can tie down the votes necessary to control the situation against such a complaint and also to bring in some members who were absent on the previous roll call, thereby enacting it into law except for the Governor's signature.

PROTEST HINDENBURG VOTE

Socialists Declare Irregularities Make Choice of War Lord Doubtful; Inquiry Scheduled

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

BERLIN, May 6.—The Socialists threw a political bombshell tonight when they suddenly protested the election of Hindenburg to the German Presidency and demanded that it be declared null and void. They declared that in many cases there were such glaring irregularities in the balloting as to cast grave doubts on the validity of the field marshal's election. The Socialists' protest will confront the electoral investigation when it meets day after tomorrow.

It was thought that the meeting would be purely perfunctory and simply confirm Hindenburg's election, but now that the Socialists have thrown their bombshell the committee will have its work cut out for it with a vengeance. The Socialists insist that the fact that Hindenburg's formal oath taking is set for next Monday, must not affect their protest. Were it otherwise they say it would amount to bringing outrageous pressure to bear in order to assure Hindenburg being declared elected irrespective of whether or not he really got a majority.

The Socialists declare that in many districts influence was exercised on the voters by the right bloc in order to assure Hindenburg's triumph over Marx. These irregularities, say the Socialists, are such as have led before in Germany to declaring elections invalid. In some districts, according to them, the antirepublican elements resumed ruthless overawing of the voters, which they had not dared to use during the first years after the armistice, but it was the candidacy of Hindenburg which inspired them with old-time audacity.

INCA "KING" MUST RAKE UP ALIMONY

Wife Not Impressed by Mate's Royal Blood; Says He Should Get a Job

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—Inca Tito Cussi, who says he is the eleventh Emperor of all the Incas, today was ordered to pay $12 weekly alimony that his wife might clothe, feed and provide shelter for herself. Magistrate Oberwager refrained from placing him under bond because "it would be a shame to ask royalty to furnish a surety."

The wife knows her husband as Albert V. Roselle. She told the court she didn't think much of "the king business" so far as her husband was concerned and preferred that he should get a job as an electrician. This was his work when she married him in 1923, she said, after having met him in the Park-avenue Baptist Church.

Roselle came to New York two years ago and tried to persuade the American Museum of Natural History to send an expedition to his homeland, Peru, to dig for the sunken city of Machupiechu, which, he says, is his property, though lost. He returned to Peru and two months later journeyed back here, this time attired in a resplendent costume of the Incas. Again he failed to win diggers for his buried city so he got a job as an electrician and married.

NO DECISION IS VERDICT IN ELECTION

New Primary System at Berkeley May be Put Up to Courts for Solution

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

BERKELEY, May 6.—Berkeley's "cross-word puzzle" election for certain city offices yesterday may be taken to the courts for solution as it appears to have resulted in no election at all.

The election was according to a certain newly evolved preferential primary system. It prevented the selection of the two leading candidates for the school board, and there is no provision for another primary. It was publicly referred to in the campaign as a "cross-word puzzle."

The system provided for both a first and second choice. However, so puzzling was the system to the voters that but 100 of the 12,402 who voted indicated their second choice, and but twenty of the 100 voted correctly. The other eighty votes were thrown out.

It also provided that a candidate must receive a majority of the votes to qualify for the final election, with the stipulation that if the count does not show such majority, the votes for the second choice may be added to make up the deficiency. However, there were so few second choices made that they could not make a majority for any candidate.

Mrs. Vera Bright and Fred S. Scripp are the leading candidates, but they failed of election under the law.

MOB ROUTS NEGRO CAMP IN OIL FIELD

Several Reported Killed in Battle When Gang of 200 Attacks Black Crew

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

ELDORADO (Ark.) May 6.—Rioting broke out in the oil fields eight miles north of here tonight when a band of 200 oil-field workers marched upon a camp of eighty-eight negroes brought to the field by the Standard Oil Company for the construction of the 100-mile pipe line between the Deep Sand district and the Mississippi River.

Only meager reports are available here. Several wounded have been brought to Eldorado and reports are that several have been killed. Approximately 100 shots were exchanged between county officers, negro guards and oil workers. Negroes in the camps rushed from their tents in all manner of garb and have deserted the camp, it is said.

SNOW FALLS IN CHICAGO; HARD FROST HARMS FRUIT AND BERRIES IN MIDWEST

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 6.—Snow fell for a few minutes in Chicago today, and snow flakes were mingled with falling cherry blossoms in the suburbs. An observer reported snow in Kenilworth at 11 a.m. and a light drizzle in other north shore villages was whitened by a snow flake mixture. An hour later a snow squall hit the city.

Frost may follow the May snow, the Weather Bureau announced this afternoon. Clouds saved the Chicago region from a nipping last night, said the weather forecaster, but tonight the clouds may vanish. In other adjacent States heavy frost damaged crops last night.

No warmer weather is in sight according to the government observer. For two days, at least, the weather will continue unseasonably cool.

The Iowa strawberry crop, valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, was wiped out by last night's frost, according to reports received at the Weather Bureau here. Heavy damage was done in Indiana, too.

Michigan points generally reported frost, but crops there are not far enough advanced to be in danger. Some Northern Michigan towns woke up to find snow on the ground this morning.

EUROPE IS SHOCKED

Article on Debts Stirs Geneva

Borah's Statement Garbled, Makes Political Fuel for Radicals

Senator Points Out He Did Not Advocate Forcible Collection

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—Whether Senator Borah's recent remarks on the French debt and the sanctity of international obligations were deliberately garbled by the European press or whether sincere attempts briefly to summarize his remarks have led to misinterpretation that is most mischievous in its results, Washington realizes that they are being used for political effect by European peoples who owe money to this government and are reluctant to pay.

Dispatches from Geneva today, reporting the excitement caused there by the publication of an article quoting Senator Borah as having declared that only force remained to be employed if France fails to take steps to pay her war debts, were viewed with apprehension here. The fact is, of course, that Senator Borah made no such statement, although a strained inference to this effect might have obtained from a cursory reading of his actual declaration. Nevertheless, it is realized here that French and other continental politicians who have been representing to their people that the United States government is a Shylock among nations will now feel free to go to the extreme of saying that the United States is threatening war on France if she does not pay.

"Of course," said Senator Borah, "any reading of what I said will show that there is no excuse for the assertion that I advocated force in the collection of a debt. My argument was quite to the contrary.

"In my article which was printed last Sunday, I commented on present conditions and tendencies in the world, and said 'if the most solemn and binding obligations are to be disregarded, and especially upon matters of more material interest, there is no alternative in international affairs but force. There will either be a reign of law or a reign of violence.'

"Then I went on to say distinctly, 'of course, these reflections are not for France alone. I am speaking generally—disregard of treaties is just as prevalent as disregard of law. While France debates the question of meeting her debt obligation, the United States debates whether she will live up to her treaty and her century of earnest teachings relative to the confiscation of the property of foreigners. Both attitudes are astounding—a doctrine of shame and violence, repudiation and confiscation, the creed of Communists.'

"It will be observed that I made no reference whatever to the use of force in the collection of debts. It seems to me that my language was unmistakably plain and excludes any such inference as reported from Geneva."

Under the circumstances, the misinterpretation placed upon the Borah remarks certainly will provide the French politicians who are seeking a political issue in the question of the debt to the United States, with material of a highly inflammatory character. The belief exists here, however, that the present French government has a thorough understanding of the facts and will discountenance all anti-American propaganda.

AIR SERVICE CHIEF LOST ON FLIGHT

Patrick's Plane Believed to Have Been Forced Down in Tennessee

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NASHVILLE (Tenn.) May 6.—Maj.-Gen. Mason M. Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service, who was reported to have left Memphis for Nashville in an airplane at 5 o'clock, had not arrived here late tonight, said Lieut. Vincent J. Meloy, instructor in the One Hundred and Fifth Observation Squadron, Nashville. The flying time is about two hours.

MEMPHIS, May 6.—A special dispatch to the Commercial-Appeal late tonight said that the airplane containing Maj.-Gen. Mason Patrick, chief of the Army Air Service and Capt. St. Clair Street, on a flight from Memphis to Nashville, was believed to have made a forced landing at a point about two miles east of Johnsonville, Tenn., shortly after 6 o'clock tonight.

An airplane thought to contain Gen. Patrick passed over Denver, Tenn., at about 6:30 o'clock tonight, flying in the direction of Nashville, and before disappearing from view changed its course and proceeded west in the direction of Johnsonville.

This information was secured by a representative of the Associated Press in a long-distance telephone conversation late tonight with W. B. Russlett, a merchant of Denver. Mr. Russlett said that no persons had left Denver in search of the aviators.

No direct word had been received here from the officers at midnight.

FRANCE RENEWS DEMAND FOR NATIONAL SECURITY

Spokesman at Geneva Conference Lays Down Conditions for Reduction of Arms

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

GENEVA, May 6.—France, through her eloquent parliamentarian, Paul Boncour, who presides over the French Commission of National Defense, has given notification that national security must be the precursor to disarmament. Addressing the international conference on the control of the trade in arms and munitions today, he repeated his great oratorical effort of the last League Assembly, when he defended the Geneva peace protocol.

While he pleaded for that reign of mutual confidence and spirit of mutual assistance among nations which would permit the world to decrease its burden of armaments, M. Boncour contended that the successful issue of the present conference would not be enough; it must be supplemented by another convention checking private manufacture of arms. And, even this would not be sufficient, he asserted, for while force prevailed as the dominating factor in the relatons between countries, the world must not be surprised if the nations sought to become stronger and stronger.

That essential atmosphere of confidence, M. Boncour held, would be possible only in so far as it would be the outcome of general security which men had sought so laboriously to establish since the great war. Men had thought of a mathematical reduction of armaments for each country, but this had proved futile, for it was demonstrated that in modern wars it was not the number of cannon, nor the number of machine guns, that counted, but the industrial forces of a nation which permitted quick preparation for war. Men had tried to fashion treaties like the treaty of mutual assistance and the Geneva peace protocol, but all were only an effort to put in practice the principle which was the very basis of the League Covenant, he said.

BILL RAISING HIGH COURT PAY SIGNED

Supreme Justices to Get $2000 More Under Act Approved by Governor

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—A salary increase of $2000 a year for the justices of the State Supreme Court was approved today by Gov. Friend W. Richardson when he signed Senate Bill No. 576, by Senator Harry Chamberlin of Los Angeles, fixing the annual salary of the court members at $10,000.

Gov. Richardson signed the bill in the presence of the justices who were at the Capitol today holding a court session. Just before the morning session convened the Governor called the judges to his chambers, stating he had a perplexing question to ask them regarding a bill.

When the justices assembled, Gov. Richardson read them the salary measure and then asked: "Is this legislation constitutional, and do you wish the bill signed?" They answered unanimously in the affirmative.

An amendment to the Constitution adopted at the last general election gave to the Legislature the right to fix the salaries of the Supreme and Appellate courts, previously fixed by a constitutional section.

Other measures signed by the Governor follow:

Senate Bill No. 732, providing for the correction of errors in assessments for property by city and county officials.

Senate Bill No. 776, providing that bequests to municipalities and counties should be put on the same basis as State bequests.

Senate Bill No. 627, eliminating the fee charges for withdrawals by building and loan associations.

Senate Bill No. 625, requiring building and loan associations to have at least 25 per cent reserve of the paid-in guarantee stock.

POLE FLYERS AWAIT SIGNAL

Any Hour May See Hop-Off of Amundsen-Ellsworth Planes in Dash for Earth's Axis

BY JAMES B. WHARTON
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, in United States and Canada by North American Newspaper Alliance]

KINGSBAY (Spitsbergen) May 6.—At any hour now the two flying boats that will be used by the Amundsen-Ellsworth polar expedition in an attempt to reach the North Pole in a 600-mile nonstop flight, will take off from here for the airplane base to be established to the north. If the weather does not turn bad the planes will refuel and hop off for the Pole the day they arrive at the base.

The expedition's two ships, the Farm and the Hobby, have left to reconnoiter for a favorable landing place on either Danes or Amsterdam Island or, perhaps, in the open water beyond those islands.

Your correspondent will be one of the twelve men that will fly with Amundsen and Ellsworth to the starting place. Six of us will then be dropped and will remain at the base until the planes return from the Pole.

The hop-off for the North Pole may occur within twenty-four hours or nine days. Everything depends upon the weather and the conditions of ice. This wide margin is due to the uncertainty of these factors.

The skein of our widely drawn-out plans was drawn together and gripped with almost incredible rapidity. A few days ago we felt fixed here, today we may stand on the eve of a great historical incident, a geographical exploration that abounds in mystery and the possibility of valuable discoveries.

The advance party on the ships may wing word back at any moment that a suitable landing place has been found. Then, if the weather conditions are favorable, we shall at once fly to the base without preliminary trial flight. Our meteorologists predict a continuation of the weather of the past two days, clear cold, with unsurpassable visibility. The third factor is the most vital for the flight.

Captain Roald Amundsen reached his decision to move immediately to the base after a talk with the meteorologists. After hearing their favorable reports, he said—"Well, if that's so, I had better move away."

The word quickly spread among the twenty-one members of the expedition. Everyone jumped to execute the necessary preparations. The expedition split in two parties, one to go by sea and the other by air.

What does the Totem Pole mean?

Totemism is a primitive system both of religion and society wherein each family, clan or tribe set up its totem pole, carved and painted to symbolize some animal or object to which they believed themselves to be knit by some mysterious tie.

The totem pole in one sense has an advertising aspect — a means of establishing identity—a trademark! Quite a contrast to the methods of civilized advertising, for instance, the daily miracle of producing Times Want Ads.

SCHOOL MORALS GRAVE PROBLEM

New York Investigators Are Shocked at Findings

Students' Code Approves of Cheating, Lying

Metropolitan Teachers Cope With Serious Crimes

BY FREDERIC J HASKIN

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—For a decade, or ever since the World War was well under way, the immoral and unmoral tendencies of the younger generation have provoked comment and criticism from many sources, ministers teachers, psychologists, social welfare workers, judges, police officials, parents and grandparents have been alarmed by what they have observed or had reported to them concerning the conduct of boys and girls of high-school age and have asked frequently the question, "What is the world coming to?"

Now comes the committee on character of New York City's Board of Education with an indictment of modern youth that is startling in the extreme. After a year's investigation of moral conditions in the high schools of the metropolis the committee has made a report in which it states bluntly that the school disciplinarian has to deal with almost every conceivable kind of crime.

"He must frequently call upon the police for help," says the committee. "To maintain law and order he needs the training of a detective; he often wishes he had a fingerprint expert, a psychologist and a psychiatrist."

CRIME IS COMMON

Thieving, cheating, gambling, lying and forgery are among the crimes or sins common among adolescents, according to this authority. Respect for parents and for duly constituted authority is almost wholly lacking. In fact, practically the only commandment which the youth of the day concern themselves about is the ultra-modern one, "Thou shalt not be caught or found out!"

Anything is all right "if you can get away with it," according to their code. Copying home-work is entirely honorable if one is not caught. Cutting classes is to be commended if one can "get by." Forging the signature of a parent or guardian to an excuse or a report is a simple way of saving a lot of trouble—unless one is found out. Thieving is a matter of almost daily occurrence, cheating is no disgrace if the offender is not detected, and gambling—especially crapshooting—is an ordinary pastime among the boys.

These investigators confirm a charge frequently made to the effect that at present the church, as a direct moral agency, touches the lives of only a small proportion of the young people, and they add that those who teach in New York City know too well how sadly lacking is the moral influence in many homes today, and know that in many homes the parent is no longer the controlling and directing influence.

"In the face of these facts," says the report, "this committee believes that there is urgent need of moral instruction in the high schools. We must give definite, positive instruction as to questions of right and wrong. The school programs must provide an opportunity for frank discussions of matters of conduct and behavior. The aim should be to develop clear-cut conceptions of positive virtues, to present the principles of right living that will govern boys and girls in making moral decisions, rather than to stress the negative, 'Thou shalt not.'"

COSMOPOLITAN VICES

A cosmopolitan high school is a cross-section of the great city itself, including every element of society, every race, every color, every creed, says the committee. This suggests the question as to whether the New York City high schools constitute a cross-section of the high schools of the United States as a whole, and whether the conditions found in the survey made in that city reflect conditions existing throughout the country.

No nation-wide study of the subject has been made and leaders in national educational affairs are reluctant to express opinions on the subject. However, it is in evidence that high-school students in other cities are exhibiting wayward tendencies quite similar to those charged against the youth of New York.

Fortunately the bad element, constitutes but a fractional part of the high school population, says the New York committee. "The rest are interesting young people to know and work with, full of enthusiasm and energy and responsive to leadership. It is true that some of them are loud, ill-mannered and over confident. Others are of the flapper type, with the bobbed locks and ever-ready mirror, rouge and powder puff. But this is only the exterior representation of their environment. They are, in reality, warm-hearted, generous-minded boys and girls, full of initiative, surprisingly free from prejudices and remarkably loyal in their devotion to an ideal to which they are pledged."

MRS. SHEPHERD RELEASED

Service of Writs in McClintock Death Cases Held Up by Agreement Pending Provision for Bail

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 6.—Mrs. Julia Shepherd, charged by a Coroner's jury with being an accessory of her indicted husband, W. D. Shepherd, in the murder of Mrs. Emma McClintock and William Nelson McClintock, will not have to go to jail while awaiting trial.

Accompanied by her attorneys she appeared before Chief Justice Hopkins of the Criminal Court at 5 o'clock this afternoon after having eluded deputy coroners who sought to serve her with a mittimus last night.

Under an agreement between her lawyers and the State's Attorney, Judge Hopkins ordered that the mittimus be not served until Friday, when Mrs. Shepherd is to appear before him and give stipulated bail of $5000 in the Mrs. McClintock case. In the Billy McClintock case she is released on her own recognizance. Mrs. Shepherd was highly elated over the decision and walked out of court jauntily with her lawyers.

Earlier in the day, Mrs. Shepherd, who left her Kenilworth home hurriedly last night when news was brought that the Coroner's jury had ordered her arrest, remained at the home of friends in Roger's Park. She emerged from cover only long enough to issue a brief statement declaring herself to be the victim of a conspiracy and excoriating Judge Olson for his activity in the case.

Preparing for the bail argument, William Scott Stewart, attorney for Shepherd, sent a letter to the State's Attorney offering to bring Mrs. Shepherd to trial on the day after her indictment before the first twelve men who might come up in the venire of possible jurors, with Judge Olson as special prosecutor. He characterized the action of the inquest as "ridiculous."

The sensational close of the Coroner's investigation was followed by one almost equally startling when State's Attorney Crowe issued a brief statement upon being informed of the jury's verdict. He said:

"I think that it is extremely unfortunate at this time, with the case of the people versus Shepherd set for trial the 18th inst. that the Coroner of Cook county thinks that his jury is the grand jury and that the chief justice of the Municipal Court thinks that he is the State's Attorney of this county."

Mr. Crowe refused to add anything to the statement, which was taken to mean that he was somewhat provoked at Chief Justice Harry Olson for his vigorous conduct of the case before the coroner's jury.

Judge Olson, replying to the statement, said:

"I noticed some antagonism the first time I went to the State's Attorney's office, but at that time I was dealing only with Assistant State's Attorneys Gorman and Savage. This statement is the first indication of Mr. Crowe's personal attitude."

What result Mr. Crowe's attitude will have on the trial of Shepherd was a subject of speculation today.

After the proceedings in Judge Hopkins court Mrs. Shepherd was permitted a brief interview alone with her husband who was brought from the County Jail for that purpose. They wept on each other's shoulders.

Nude Climber in Attempt to Pose as Diana

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 6.—A nude and husky figure climbed laboriously up the face of Madison Square Garden today bent upon substituting for St. Gauden's Diana, whose slender outline for so many years formed the pinnacle of tower.

Police, who first saw a crowd of pedestrians in imminent danger of sprained necks, gazed aloft and saw a nude man scaling the fire escapes and waving to the crowd.

"Hey!" the cops yelled, "come down."

The soft drawl of the human fly was borne upon the wind:

"Statues does what they pleases," the policemen heard.

The aspirant for Diana's job said he was Charles Drysdale, 25 years of age, "demon baseball player."

"As a statue, you're a home run," remarked Police Sergeant Mulligan as he wrapped the prisoner in newspapers and started for the psychopathic ward of Bellevue.

SOAP ADDICTION DIVORCE CAUSE

Nevada Rancher Released From Wife of Strange Tastes

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RENO (Nev.) May 6.—Many strange reasons for divorces have been advanced in Reno courts, but a new one was presented by Henry G. Williams, a farmer, who asserted his wife was a confirmed eater of Castile soap. He said it was her habit to lie in bed for days at a time and eat the soap, flavored with peppermint.

He asserted she also was shiftless and lazy and remained away for days at a time, but that the soap eating was his particular aversion. He also charged cruelty and desertion. District Judge Bartlett held Williams was entitled to a decree.

LOVE LETTERS HELD BASIS FOR DIVORCE

MENTAL CRUELTY CHARGE OF FRESNO MAN UPHELD ON APPEAL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—Overruling the decision of the Fresno County Superior Court, the Third District Court of Appeal today decided that the receipt by a wife of love letters from other men constitutes mental cruelty from the standpoint of the husband and is ground for divorce.

The ruling was made in the case of Leo F. Anso and Lillian H. Anso. Anso petitioned for a divorce on the ground of cruelty, alleging his wife got love letters from other men and refused to cook or do housework. The trial court denied the petition.

In reversing the lower court the decision of the Appellate Court, written by Justice J. A. Plummer, said that such correspondence is "utterly subversive of the purposes of the marital relation."

Cox, Inc., today was transferred from Superior Court to the United States District Court because of the plaintiff's showing that a number of stockholders involved are residents of States other than California. The plaintiffs assert the respondents illegally sold and improperly converted $109,000 in stock of the Doble Steam Motors Corporation.

NEW BASIC CODE IN ITALY READY

Constitution Reformed by Mussolini's Orders

Makes His Cabinet Secure Against Parliament

Woman's Suffrage Measure Expected to Pass

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ROME, May 6.—Premier Mussolini's Commission of Eighteen charged with the reformation of the Italian constitution, has completed its work. Advance information was given today that the constitution of Italy, which is not regarded here as a holy and unalterable text, will be completely changed to conform with Signor Mussolini's ideas.

The most important change provides for the security of the Cabinet against the wishes of Parliament. In other words, it is proposed that the Italian Cabinet will be like that of the American Cabinet, which is not responsible to Congress, and thus one of the few European Parliamentary governments will disappear.

SUFFRAGE BILL TO PASS

Another political event announced today was the official opening of Parliament the 14th inst., when the new constitution and other vital matters will be taken up. Women's suffrage will be among the first matters discussed. Inasmuch as Signor Mussolini has ambiguously expressed himself in favor of granting votes to women despite the fact that a majority of the Fascists oppose it, it is said the bill will pass because the Deputies cannot afford to antagonize the Premier.

Signor Mussolini's official organ says that the antisecret society bill, which is aimed exclusively at smashing Free Masonry in Italy, will pass triumphantly. This means that the Premier himself is backing the bill. The bill prohibits the operation of any secret organization and is the Fascists' answer to the Masonic opposition to their party.

FOLLOWS SOVIET SYSTEM

The chief feature of the constitutional reform is the fact that it follows somewhat the soviet Russian system of apportioning the membership in Parliament. The membership is raised to 400. Three hundred will be elected direct, and 300 by professional syndicates such as lawyers, doctors, agrarian councils and chambers of commerce. The last item includes employers and workmen.

Under this reform it will be practically impossible to overthrow the Cabinet by an adverse vote in the Chamber. The Cabinet could delay a vote for days and in case of defeat the Cabinet could appeal to the Senate, after which the Chamber and Senate must vote jointly to determine the fate of the Cabinet.

The opposition denounces the reform as a fresh scheme of Signor Mussolini to remain in power forever even should he be deserted by his own majority.

State Expert Hits Proposed Rate Increase

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—W. P. Geary, rate expert of the State Railroad Commission, estimated today that if the sixty-seven major railroads west of the Mississippi were granted their petition to the Interstate Commerce Commission to increase freight rates from 3.55 per cent to 5.75 per cent on the capital investment, it will cost shippers in California in excess of $5,000,000 a year.

Geary said that the State's rail freight bill is now $188,000,000 a year.

Copies of the petition, which was filed in Washington on April 23, reached the State commission today.

The attitude of the State commission on the petition will be determined by a report upon the situation by Geary.

Johnson, who was named as a defendant with the two purchaser banks is accused of having walked out of a hearing before a notary public without explanation while his deposition was being sought. Johnson is being sued as an individual and not as the State Banking Superintendent. The citation will be asked for in the Superior Court.

FRENCH BATTLE RIFFIA

Gen. Colombat's Forces Drive Back Moors, W... 500 Dead; Invaders Well Organized

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

[Copyright, 1925, by the Chicago Tribune.]

PARIS, May 6.—The columns of French troops led by Gen. Colombat and Col. Freydenburg today established contact with a body of the Riffian forces invading French Morocco from the Taza zone near Bibane, directly north of Fez, and a sanguinary battle was fought.

Gen. Colombat drove back the Moors, whom he found were "well organized and armed and wearing uniforms," was one of the most important engagements that have taken place between the Riffians and the French. The former distinguished themselves exceedingly although withdrawing in good order under heavy bombardments by artillery and mountain batteries.

The French casualties were 500 officers and eighteen soldiers killed and fifty wounded, while the Riffians lost 500 dead.

Quai d'Orsay stated that the French intention was to close the Spanish border, which was officially permitted to remain open to Spain and England, pending such action would be a violation of the treaty of Algeciras.

Reports from Taza say that French troops have crossed the border in pursuit of bands of Riffians who have been stealing cattle from French zone, are believed to be the same originated in claims of Abd-el-Krim that the frontier is at the Inaouen River, whereas the treaty provides that all tributaries of the river, including those in the zone of the French zone.

TROTZKY MAY ATTEMPT COUP

because they consider that it has failed to give worth-while results, because the soviet government needs the money spent on it urgently and because France and England flatly refuse to lend money until propaganda ceases. The wild men like Stalin, Zinovieff and Kameneff insist on continuing propaganda abroad.

"M. Tchitcherin has threatened to resign unless the propaganda is abandoned," the diplomat continued. "He was so disgusted that he did not come to the Foreign Office for ten days in the early part of March and it was impossible to do any work there until he returned.

"The Communist Internationale, which is entirely financed by the soviet government, is now specializing in the Balkans in order to threaten Europe, and in China in order to bring pressure on the United States. The soviet government subsidizes the Russian Communist party, which directs the policy of both.

"It is curious that Bolshevik propagandists abroad never mention the fact that there is no Bolshevism in Russia. The experiment failed there."

The diplomat emphasized the fact that Communism disappeared from Russia months ago and the country is getting more and more capitalistic all the time. The great mass of the people of Russia today are hungry and destitute, while the new bourgeoisie are spending money at a terrific rate and living as if every day were the last in the world.

The Communist profiteers ride in fine automobiles, fill themselves with French champagne and pack cabarets every night, while the streets are filled with barefooted people begging bread. The further the Communist party deviates from Communist principles the stronger it gets.

M. Trotzky wants to overthrow the whole Communist dictatorship and hold absolutely free elections, which will not be controlled by the government. He thinks that the most worthy of the Communist principles are so deeply rooted in Russia that there is no chance of a return of the reactionary regime.

Department of Justice on Stock Sale Inquiry

Picture of President Said to be Used as "Lure"

Statement Holds Action is Not Permissible

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—At the request of President Coolidge, the Department of Justice today began an investigation into charges that a talking motion-picture of the President was being used as a "lure" in selling stock by the Phono Film Sales Corporation of New York City.

According to information reaching the President, James W. Elliott, a New York stock promoter who had once been investigated in connection with stock-selling transactions, was using a picture of the President as the center of the "sales talk," which his salesmen were directed to make.

Beyond making known the action taken by the President, the White House declined to comment on the matter, other than to explain that the use of film depicting President Coolidge by stock salesmen in their sales-talk could not be permitted.

According to information given out at the White House this film was taken last summer in the early part of the national political campaign with the understanding that it was to be used exclusively for campaign purposes.

Dr. Lee De Forest, inventor of what he terms the Phono Film, believes it produced the voice as well as the picture of the person photographed, was personally in charge of the picture-taking and recording of the political speech delivered by the President to accompany the film.

However, for some reason or other, either because it did not live up to expectations or because the political leaders voted against its use, it was never utilized and, with the activities of the campaign, was forgotten.

Recently the President posed again for De Forest and made a speech, which was released according to schedule before an editors' meeting in New York City. It was said, however, that this film does not figure in the investigation.

The President was told that Elliott's new proposition is known as the Phono Film Sales Corporation and was formed to market $900,000 worth of stock in the De Forest-Phono Film Corporation. In gaining his salesmen it is reported that Elliott told them to rely on the film showing President Coolidge as the bait to get their prospects interested.

CAMPBELL TO APPEAL CONVICTION

Oil Man Plans to Carry Fight Against Sentence to Higher Court

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

GREAT FALLS (Mont.) May 6. Gordon Campbell, found guilty here today of the charge that he made illegal use of the mails in promoting an oil syndicate, will make an appeal to the Circuit Court of Appeals at San Francisco, it was announced late today by S. C. Ford of Helena, Mont., his chief counsel. Campbell was sentenced today to serve two years in the penitentiary at Leavenworth and to pay a fine of $1000 and costs.

Federal Judge George M. Bourquin, who presided at the trial, allowed a stay of execution for five days so that defense counsel could sue out a writ of error. The court also allowed thirty days in which to prepare an appeal. A bond of $2500 incident to the stay of execution was furnished by Campbell this afternoon. Mr. Ford said that because of the expected summer recess of the San Francisco Circuit Court, the Campbell appeal may not be argued before September.

The verdict in which Campbell was found guilty was returned in Federal court this morning, after an agreement had been reached by the jurors last night. The trial began the 1st inst., and went to the jury last Monday evening. The jury deliberated twenty-nine hours before the verdict was reached.

WAR TEST REPORT NEUTRAL

Umpires Find Defects Both in Oahu Defenses and Fleet in Summary at Close of Critique

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

HONOLULU, May 6.—The Battle of Oahu and the most extensive maneuvers ever conducted by the United States disclosed defects in both the island defenses and the fleet which have been made the basis of a special report and recommendations to the Secretaries of War and Navy, the chief umpires announced in a noncommittal communique issued following the conclusion of the critique shortly before noon today.

The umpires, Admiral Robert E. Coontz and Maj.-Gen. John L. Hines, recommend that the departments make the "resisting power of Oahu the strongest possible character," pointing out that these defenses constitute the key to the Pacific.

The communique discussed none of the controversial questions which developed during the actions of the war game, such as the relative effectiveness of submarines and surface and aircraft. No details are given but officers of both services are praised.

The issuance of the communique officially ended the third grand joint Army and Navy maneuvers, which lasted from April 15 to 27.

The maneuvers centering around the battle of Oahu fulfilled their original objects, to test the existing plans of defense of Oahu, uncovered defects and exercise the army and navy forces in the conduct of joint operations in the opinion of Admiral R. Coontz, and Maj.-Gen. Hines, as expressed in a final summary issued to the newspapers.

AIRCRAFT WEAK

Despite the practically unanimous unofficial opinion that the "Blue" attacking fleet won the war game, the statement of the umpires fails to mention the outcome or point out the particular weaknesses of the defense and the "Blue" fleet which were discovered as a result of the action.

It is understood unofficially, however, that the principle weaknesses displayed were in the aircraft operation, which formed the most controversial phase of the operations. It is believed unofficially that both the "Blue" and "Black" aircraft squadrons failed to function as well as might have been expected and both the land and sea aviation forces need considerable strengthening and enlargement. Higher officers decline to be quoted on this question except to say "we need more and larger airplanes on Oahu."

PLANES ENDANGERED

Another deficiency discovered was the danger attached to taking off from and landing on Ford Island, the center of Pearl Harbor, and the naval base, by both the army and navy aircraft engaged in the defense, when a considerable number of vessels are anchored, or moored in the harbor. At present 122 warships of all classes are anchored in Pearl Harbor and aviators complained that the high masts made taking off and landing highly precarious due to the danger of collision. This is given as one reason for the reported failure of "Black" aircraft to function as well as they should have done theoretically. A solution of this deficiency, in the opinion of officers, will be the establishment of an advanced aviation base for both the Army and Navy at Kanehoe Bay on the northeast coast, from which point all operations will be conducted. Ford Island will be retained as a repair base.

Some suggestions have been made that the "Black" aircraft composed of army airplanes from Luke and Wheeler fields and navy planes might have operated more effectively had they been under unified command. This suggestion, however, refers only to the island of Oahu, where the main army and navy aviation stations are located on the same small island, within a stone's throw of each other. It is pointed out that this suggestion should not be taken as regarding a unified national aviation service.

PEARL HARBOR OIL TANKS TO STAY EMPTY

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—The Navy Department has acted upon advice of special government counsel in the oil cases, Secretary Wilbur said today, in deciding not to permit the filling of the oil tanks built at Pearl Harbor under the Doheny Elk Hills oil contract.

With the government contending that the contract was illegal, it was desired to avoid any appearance of recognizing the contract and thereby prejudicing the case in the courts, regardless of reports that erosion is damaging the empty tanks.

Insofar as the Hawaiian defenses are concerned, it was said at the department that an extensive program had been arranged and it was hoped Congress would appropriate this winter the $5,988,000 it has already authorized to be expended in completing dredging of the channel at Pearl Harbor. This would give a forty-five-foot channel over the bar and a forty-foot channel the rest of the way.

Completing the channel is regarded as the most important project there at this time, but officials hope also to obtain appropriations for other improvements of the defenses recommended in recent years.

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—Explaining that an innocent man had been sent to prison for robbery, Gov. Friend W. Richardson today granted a full pardon to Sidney Wood, convicted in Los Angeles in March, 1924, of holding up an electric train in the suburbs of Los Angeles.

The pardon was issued upon the recommendation of Dist.-Atty. Asa Keyes of Los Angeles county, who informed Gov. Richardson that he was convinced Wood did not commit the crime of which he was convicted.

WORK TRIMS EXPENSES IN LAND OFFICE

Retrenchment in Federal Bureau Saves Government Over Half a Million

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, May 6.—An annual reduction of $555,000 in the operating expenses of the General Land Office through a reorganization of the bureau was announced today by Secretary Work.

Most of the savings are effective at once but the abolishment of the office of Surveyor-General and changes in the field-surveying division will not become effective until the end of this fiscal year, June 30.

The major part of the savings in operation will be brought about through the abolition of forty local land offices with a consequent discontinuance of the services of 147 local officials and employees at an estimated annual saving of $272,000. The reorganization of the Washington headquarters of the General Land Office will eliminate seventy-nine employees at an annual saving of $151,000.

RADIO WILL FLASH WAR ZONE VIEWS

Delicate Apparatus Will Transmit Pictures Across 5000 Miles

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 6.—The War Department, by arrangement with the Radio Coorporation of America, will radio pictures bearing on the Hawaiian war games from Honolulu to New York, a distance of more than 5000 miles, beginning at 11 o'clock tomorrow morning. Pictures taken in Hawaii within a day or two of the experiment will be adjusted to the portable transmitting apparatus sent to Hawaii. The light and shadow of the picture are translated first into a point of light of varying intensity, then into current of varying intensity and then into radio signals, back into current, and once more back into the light of varying intensity which makes the photograph over again in the offices of the radio corporation in this city.

The reason for all the changes from current to radio and back again is that the signals are twice transmitted by radio and three times by telegraph before they arrive from Hawaii to New York. The first lap is by wire from the picture transmitting apparatus to the broadcasting station in Hawaii. The second lap is by radio to the receiving station in California.

DISPOSAL OF WEST INDIES IS INDORSED

French Naval Officer is of Opinion Country May Do it to Settle Debts

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PARIS, May 6.—The disposal of the French West Indian possessions to the United States, and other colonies if necessary, to free France from the burden of its war debts, was recommended by Claude Farere, author, traveler and naval officer, in a letter to Eclaire in answer to critics opposed to the transaction on "patriotic grounds."

Owing to the resentment of the French press against Senator Borah's "attack on France" and Ambassador Houghton's speech to the Pilgrims against "war mongers," both of which were interpreted here as calculated to coerce France to adopting the Anglo-Saxon thesis for the reconstruction of Europe, the suggestion of M. Farere is regarded as especially timely in showing a chance the way out.

Senator Lemorey Martinique recently attacked the suggested trading of the colonies, saying France never would "forget the French blood."

For Safe Head lights —COPPER AND BRASS

Headlights frequently are dull or "dead" because of rusted reflectors.

Ordinary metal reflectors cannot escape rust, and they soon lose their ability to "push" the light ahead.

COPPER or BRASS reflectors do not rust. They take a brilliant lustre and they hold it.

When you know that COPPER or BRASS reflectors are back of your headlight lamps you are sure of safe lights ahead.

Subpoenas Are Issued for Official and Attorney

Fresno Institution Sale is Cause of Summons

Refuses to Reply to Quiz as Private Citizen

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Subpoenas were issued late today ordering John F. Johnson, State Superintendents of Banks, and his attorney, James M. Oliver, to appear at a hearing scheduled for next Monday morning before a notary public and to answer such questions as may be asked in connection with the taking of their depositions in the suit brought by stockholders of the Valley Bank of Fresno to set aside the sale of that bank to the Bank of Italy and the Pacific Southwest Bank of Los Angeles.

Questioning of Johnson was interrupted today when he walked out of the conference room in the midst of the taking of his deposition. Johnson declined to answer certain questions on advice of his attorney, Oliver, who contended his client had been improperly cited as an individual, instead of as State Superintendent of Banks. The subpoena issued today is designed to overcome Attorney Oliver's objection.

Subpoenas also have been served on James A. Bacigalupi, president of the Bank of Italy, and A. P. Giannini, former president, ordering them to appear tomorrow before a notary public so their depositions may be taken.

Superintendent Johnson is a defendant with officials of the two purchaser banks in a suit in which fraud and conspiracy are charged in the sale of the Valley Bank of Fresno in February, 1924.

The suit is said to involve several millions of dollars.

CHURCHMAN CHARGED AS SEDITIONIST

Mexican Bishop Defies Government in Letter on Apostolic Enactment

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

MEXICO CITY, May 6.—Jesse de Jesus Manrique Zarate, Bishop of Huejutla, has been cited to the Attorney-General by the Department of the Interior for a recent pastoral letter which the authorities consider openly seditious.

Referring to the occurrences in connection with the creation of the Mexican Apostolic Church and the taking over of church buildings by the government, Bishop Zarate said that the church owned the buildings and that the government was guilty of theft when it took them over.

Concerning the article in the Mexican Constitution empowering the government to intervene in religious matters, the pastoral letter is quoted as saying:

"We solemnly declare that we will never submit to the government's authority in church matters, in which the Pope is the only authority."

Any laws contrary to the divine or ecclesiastical laws, it was added, were null and highly immoral.

Bishop Zarate ended by forbidding the priests to accept the constitution or future laws connected with church matters.

Flyer Injured in Leap From Disabled Plane

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CLEVELAND (O.) May 6.—Maj. Henry Taylor, Army flyer stationed in Columbus, was injured severely today when he jumped from his airplane when the control stick broke as he was flying 1500 feet above Botsum, O., 6 miles east of Akron. Taylor was brought to a Cleveland hospital where physicians said he suffered no fractures.

With Taylor at the time was J. F. Alexander of Mansfield. Alexander and Taylor, using parachutes, leaped from the disabled plane. The former landed safely, but Taylor alighted in a tree. The plane in which the two had left Cleveland for Mansfield was demolished.

Two Unidentified Men Suffocated in Truckee Jail

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TRUCKEE, May 6.—Two unidentified men, presumably laborers employed by the Utah Construction Company, were suffocated in the Truckee jail some time last night. They had been arrested earlier in the evening by the local officers for drunkenness.

It is supposed that they set fire to the interior of the jail by either knocking the stove over or smoking. When the night watchman opened the jail at a later hour the men were found suffocated.

The remains were taken in charge by the Deputy Coroner, but the names have not yet been learned.

Sea of Liquor is Reality Near San Francisco

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—If the shrimps in the lower end of San Francisco Bay rise up in their might in the next few days and do battle with the sea lions and the porpoises off the harbor entrance, the onus of the carnage will have to be borne by Fred Esola, United States Marshal. Esola completed plans today for turning the lower end of the bay into one large and expansive highball, with the destruction of liquor seizures having a total value of $300,000. The liquor is to be poured into a slough leading into the lower bay where the shrimp beds and sardine schools are located.

TEACHING PAIR'S RELATIONS CALLED DETRIMENTAL TO MORALS IN LETTER

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

The letter bears the signatures of George O. Lynn, principal of the Manteca Union High School; Verne B. Brown, principal of the Ripon Union School, and B. F. Brown, principal of the Escalon Union High School.

An investigation of the conduct of the teachers is deemed advisable, the letter states "for the protection of the moral interests of our boys and girls and of the teaching profession."

The action taken by the State school body today was the adoption of a resolution referring the matter to the Board of Education of San Joaquin county for investigation and report.

DUTCH TURN DOWN OLYMPIC GAMES

GOVERNMENT ACTION HITS SPORT PROGRAM FOR 1928

Los Angeles Has Games for 1932 and Does Not Propose to Take Over 1928 Affair

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS]

AMSTERDAM, May 6.—The rejection today by the lower house of Parliament of the bill making an appropriation for the games of the 1928 Olympic Games in Amsterdam, although generally discounted by those conversant with the political situation in Holland, is admitted to have struck the Dutch Olympic committee a hard blow.

With the elections coming within two weeks the government has decided to pigeonhole the bill for the present. The new Chamber will not meet until September, and the present government must assume responsibility for sponsoring the measure rejected by the outgoing house. In any event, the bill could not again be voted on before October.

The favorable subscription—an announcement of which met with an enthusiastic welcome—will be returned in order to meet the demands of the Olympic committee's treasurer.

Messrs. P. A. Scharroo and M. Van Blankenstein, respectively, president and secretary of the Dutch Olympic committee, who have been working hard to organize the games, still fondly imagine that they will be able to pull them out of the financial muddle. The Olympic committee meets in Prague, May 15, and they expect to be in a position before it with adequate assurances of their ability to finance the games.

Holland does not want the Olympic Games. That's the opinion of William May Garland, the American who is most responsible for the 1932 affair awarded to Los Angeles. Garland will head the committee in charge of arrangements for this city's Olympiad and is therefore qualified to speak on the subject.

"It is my belief that Holland will get out of this muddle and actually hold the games in 1928," said Garland last night. "Just because the government takes a stand against appropriating money for the affair is no reason for stating that Holland won't stage the games. In many countries private interests have raised the money and I think the Dutch will follow this plan.

"Los Angeles will not be ready for the games in 1928. We will have to raise more than $1,000,000, and that can't be done in so short a space of time. Also the European countries are decidedly unstable financially at this time. By 1932 conditions will be much better, I believe, and each country will be able to send its full quota of athletes—a feat hardly possible in 1928. We have laid plans for the games here in 1932 and shall stick to them."

HARRY WILLIAMS AT ROMAN SPORT RALLY

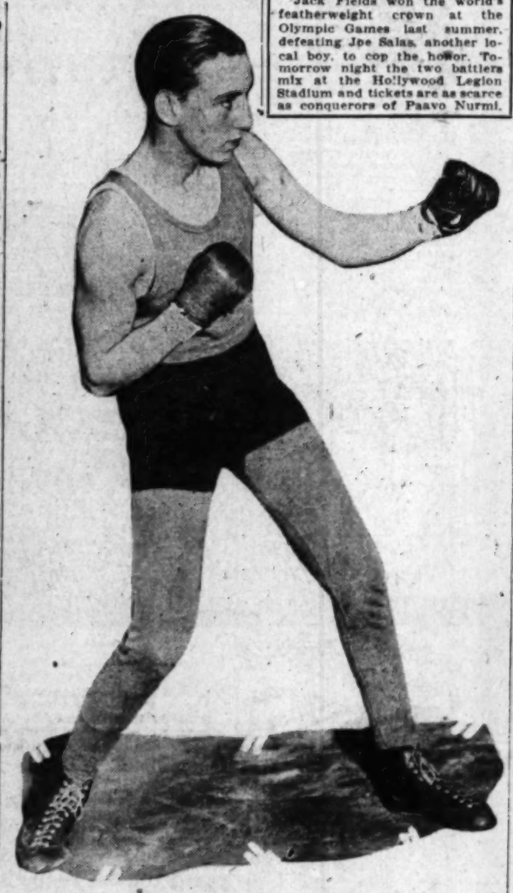
BARFOOT'S HOMER GIVES TIGERS WIN OVER SEALS



THE CHAMPION

Jack Fields won the world's featherweight crown at the Olympic Games last summer, defeating Joe Salas, another local boy, to cop the honor. Tomorrow night the two battlers mix at the Hollywood Legion Stadium and tickets are as scarce as conquerors of Paavo Nurmi.

FIELDS-SALAS GO DRAWS

Interest in Tomorrow Night's Fight at Hollywood Indicates Crowded House at Legion

If the Hollywood American Legion fight arena stands the strain Jackie Fields and Joe Salas will battle ten rounds there tomorrow night. Advance indications point to the largest crowd in the history of the Movie City swat palace and it is understood that carpenters have been busy strengthening the building's foundation. It is a safe bet that hundreds of fans will be unable to get seats.

Fields and Salas are boxers of world-wide fame. Last summer the former won the world's Olympic title in the featherweight class and in order to do so he had to dispose of Salas, his own team-mate from the Los Angeles Athletic Club. The boys met once following their return here. That was at Vernon in a special amateur show. Fields got the nod after four fast rounds.

After that bout the boys soon turned to the professional game. Salas stuck to George Blake, his noted instructor, while Fields branched out and put himself under the managerial wing of Willie (Gig) Rooney. With such a turn of affairs there will naturally be plenty of color in the scrap.

Fields is the favorite along the betting row. He is the best boxer. He has two wins over Salas to his credit. Lately he has developed a knockout punch. It is taken practically for granted that he can outbox Salas. On the other hand, Joe is a terrific hitter, as witness the sad fate of Joe Pimenthal, who was kayoed not so long ago at Hollywood. Salas's punches travel only a short distance, but they are loaded with dynamite. In his bout with Pimenthal he also showed great improvement as a boxer. Those who like short-enders have a sweet bet in Salas—particularly as he will be guided by George Blake.

The supporting card is a good one.

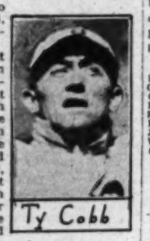
Ty Smashes Two More Into Stands, Giving Him Five in Two Days; Tygers Down Browns, 11 to 4

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

ST. LOUIS, May 6.—Tyrus Cobb established another fence-busting record when he poled two home runs in a 11-to-4 victory for the Tygers today over the Browns, giving him five in two days with his three of yesterday. The American League record for home runs in two consecutive games is four, made by Babe Ruth, June 13 and 14, 1921; Ken Williams, April 22 and 23, 1922, and Tillie Walker, July 1 and 2, 1922.

The only other player registering with five home runs in two days is the late Capt. Anson, who turned it with two August 3, 1884, and three August 6.



Cobb's first homer came in the fourth inning against Dave Danforth with O'Rourke on first, when he hit into the right-field bleachers and, he repeated it in the ninth against Chester Falk with Blue on third and O'Rourke on second.

Cobb narrowly missed tying another record of eleven straight hits made by Tris Speaker in 1920. Finishing Monday's game with two singles and getting six hits yesterday, Cobb started today with a single in the first inning, but it was stopped in the third inning when Jacobson caught a line drive in back of second. George Sisler increased his record of hitting safely to twenty-one games with singles in the fifth and eighth. Score:

Mickey Arrives in North for Bout With Cooper

Champ Given Royal Welcome in San Francisco

Welter Offered Date Here, Manager Admits

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. Mickey Walker, the welterweight champion pugilist, arrived today for his fight here May 16 with Lefty Cooper, and the champion's manager, Jack Kearns, conveyed the information that the bout would not involve the title, as had been advertised.

Kearns explained that a clause in the contract required Copper to weigh more than 150 pounds. The welterweight limit is 147, at about which figure Walker is expected to enter the ring, though he weighed slightly over 150 today.

Kearns added that Walker had been offered a title match with an unnamed opponent in Los Angeles some time this summer and that the proposal was looked on favorably. Unless this bout materializes, the welter title will not be at issue until Walker meets Dave Shade in New York in August, said the manager. Kearns, who still directs the potential ring engagements of Jack Dempsey, recently took over Walker's affairs.

The genial Mickey was met by the usual band and a large delegation of sport fans, headed by Chief of Police O'Brien and including such pugilistic notables as Jimmy Britt and "Spider" Kelly. An automobile parade ended at

Wildness of Williams Aids in Vernon Victory

Hap O'Connor Impressive in Debut as Umpire

BY ROBERT E. RAY

Clyde Barfoot, who earns his spending money by pitching ball for the Vernon Tigers, occupants of the Coast League's cellar, defeated the league-leading San Francisco Seals almost single-handed yesterday, his home run over the left-field fence with Rod Whitney on the sacks giving the Bengals a 3-to-2 victory in the series opener.

Opposed against Barfoot was Guy Williams, square-shouldered southpaw, whose wildness cost him the victory. Williams walked five men, and two of those walks turned into runs. Marty Griffin relieved Williams in the seventh, when the home guards staged an uprising following Barfoot's circuit poke and retired the Tigers scoreless during the remainder of the program.

The game itself was one of the best played here this season, both sides showing a lot of hustle and getting it over in an hour and thirty-four minutes.

A good-sized week-day crowd, 4000 fans, turned out to see the Seals in their first local appearance. However, the Seals and Tigers did not grab all of the glory, for Leo J. (Hap) O'Connor, possessor of the biggest chin in the national pastime, made his debut

HUSKIES ENTER REGATTA

Seven Varsity Crews Enter Races at Poughkeepsie June 22; Navy Back in Competition

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—Seven varsity crews, one more than last year will compete in the intercollegiate regatta on the Hudson River at Poughkeepsie, June 22, the board of stewards of the Intercollegiate Rowing Association said today. Entries officially closed today with the receipt of Varsity and freshmen entries from the University of Wisconsin. Five crews will start in each of the junior varsity and freshmen events.

Pennsylvania, Cornell, Syracuse, Columbus, Navy, Wisconsin and Washington will compete in the varsity event. Pennsylvania, Cornell and Columbia have competed in every intercollegiate regatta since the organization of the association in 1895. Wisconsin rowed in its first race in 1898, while Syracuse joined the quartet in 1901. Wisconsin rowed every year from 1898 until 1914, when it dropped out and did not compete again until last year. The Orange, however, has sent its crews to the regatta continually since 1901.

The Navy, victors in 1921 and 1922, will compete this year after a lapse of a year. This will be the sixth appearance of the Navy

ILLINOIS BOXING BILL WINS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SPRINGFIELD (Ill.) May 5.—By a vote of 95 to 42, the House today passed the Green bill creating a State Athletic Commission and legalizing boxing in Illinois. The bill now goes to the Senate where its prospects for passage are promising.

The House broke into a tumult of applause when Mrs. Rena Elrod, Republican, Chicago, in her maiden speech, voted for the bill. The crowded galleries joined in the tribute to the little black-haired woman when members on the floor rose to their feet to applaud her.

"All my life I have been fond of sports," she said. "I am taking this bill in perfect faith. I am perfectly willing to take a chance with my vote and vote aye."

ST. ANNES (Eng.) May 6.—Playing in the ladies' northern foursomes, Miss Glenna Collett, former American champion, and Mrs. Allan Macbeth, British champion in 1913, disposed of two pairs of opponents today without being pressed, although they granted ten strokes to the first couple and eleven to the second.

In the forenoon Miss Collett and Mrs. Macbeth beat Mrs. T. H. Miller and Mrs. E. S. Catlow, 3 up and 1 to play, and after lunch they had to go only to the fifteenth green to eliminate Miss B. Mariand and Miss P. Foden, both of St. Annes.

There are top-notch golfers in sight as opponents of the Anglo-British pair before the semifinal round which will be played on Friday morning. Then if the favorites come through their 36 holes tomorrow Miss Collett and Mrs. Macbeth probably will play Miss Cecil Leitch and Miss Greig to decide who will go into the finals from the lower half of the draw.

The Collett-Macbeth opponents for the fourth round tomorrow morning will be Miss B. Dawson and Miss O. H. Sykes, who have a handicap of 25 and probably will be conceded eight or nine strokes.

BAD KNEES HALT SCOTT'S RECORD

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—Everett Scott today gave way before lame knees after playing in 1307 consecutive games of major league baseball. On June 20, 1916, as a member of the Boston Red Sox, Scott started on a record that no other athlete has approached on a baseball diamond. Scott donned his uniform, but remained in the dugout while little Paul Wanninger, a recruit, took his place in the game against Philadelphia.

LOOP LEADERS ARE DEFEATED

as a Coast League umpire. Hap, who relieved Ed Finney, got by in fine style, calling all the plays as they should have been called. In fact, Hap and Jack Carroll, who umped behind the plate, turned in the best bit of arbitrating seen here this season.

INTO TROUBLE

Barfoot got into trouble on three occasions, in the first, fourth and fifth, when the Seals got two men on with but one or none out, but managed to prevent the visitors from scoring until the sixth, when a single, a poorly played double and an error by Neal Finn gave the Seals their two markers.

Bill Essick presented a brand new line-up for the edification of the fans. Ed Hemingway performed at first instead of Jim McDowell, who was benched because of his failure to hit; Wes Griffen was in left, Slade on short, Finn was in left, Slade in center, and Beals Becker, purchased in the north, in right.

There is a possibility that Essick may present a new face in his outfield today, for it was announced yesterday that Joe Kelly, former San Francisco outfielder, had been purchased by the Tigers. Kelly is a hard hitter and should supply the Bengals with some punch, which they are sadly in need of. Joe is claimed to be in fine shape and should be ready to play today. He is expected to arrive here from San Francisco this morning.

Getting back to the ball game once more, the Seals threatened to put over a score in the first inning, but Barfoot managed to blank them. After Valla had grounded out, Mulligan and Waner both singled. Brower was retired on a pop fly to Finn, while Barfoot caused the fans to elicit shouts of glee when he struck out Ellison to retire the side.

BENGALS SCORE

The Bengals got off to a one-run lead in the second when Warner walked, went to second on Slade's infield hit, and scored on Rod Whitney's one-base poke to center.

The visitors once more threatened to score in the fourth, Waner and Brower leading off with hits, but the blows were wasted when Ellison popped to Finn, and Pete Kilduff, leading home-run puncher of the league, hit into a double-play, Slade to Finn to Hemingway. In the fifth, Rhyne singled and Yelle doubled with none out, but Barfoot again kept the Seals from scoring. Williams was thrown out by Warner without either runner advancing, while Rhyne was nailed at the plate when he attempted to score on Valla's tap to Hemingway. Finn threw out Mulligan for the third out.

However, the Seals proved that if you keep hitting somebody on the chin they're bound to go down some time, by punching out two more hits and making them count for two runs. After Waner had filed out, Brower lifted a hit to left. Ellison filed to Wolfer, but Kilduff slammed a double against the left-field wall and Brower, who had taken a bid lead, rambled all the way home. Griffin's relay to the plate was not so good, otherwise Brower might have been held at third. Kilduff pulled up at third on the throw-in. Rhyne tapped an easy one to Finn, and Pete counted when the second-sacker let the ball trinkle through his shapely under-pinning, Rhyne was out stealing for the final out.

BARFOOT HOMES

Then in the Bengal seventh, Whitney followed Slade's infield out by drawing a walk. Barfoot caught one of Williams's offerings squarely, lifting it over the left-field wall for a homer and putting the home guards back in the lead. Wolfer and Finn followed with singles, while Hemingway filed to Valla. Essick then sent Pete Schneider in to bat for Becker. Pete likes left-handers, so Ellison immediately lifted Williams in favor of Marty Griffin. Essick countered by jerking Schneider and letting Blakesley, a left-hander hitter, bat. However, the strategy didn't mean anything, Blakesley grounding to Kilduff for the third out.

Rhyne singled to left with two out in the eighth, but Barfoot slipped over a third strike on Pinch-Hitter Tim Hendryx, batting for Yelle, and the contest was Q.E.D., as the geometries would have it. Score:

SAYS SILVER FEARS ACE

Hudkins's Brother-Manager Declares Bay City Boxer Dodging Date Here With Nebraskan

BY PAUL LOWRY

"Jack Silver is afraid of Ace Hudkins and is taking a run-out powder," declared Clyde Hudkins, manager of the Pacific Coast lightweight champion, when informed last night that Silver's manager had notified Jack Doyle, Vernon promoter, his boy would not meet Hudkins in Los Angeles, May 19.

Hudkins was scheduled to meet the winner of the Silver-O'Donnell fight, staged at Vernon Tuesday night, but after the San Franciscan won he announced that he had injured a bone in his hand and would not be able to fight for some time.

Silver is understood to have taken a train for the north last night. "It's a plain case of cowardice," said Clyde Hudkins. "Silver has been yelping that Ace would not meet him at 135 pounds, the regular lightweight limit, when as a matter of fact that is exactly the weight we want to come in at.

"Ace is a bona-fide lightweight. When the match was first proposed we demanded 135 pounds at 2 o'clock. Silver held out for 137 pounds. We conceded a pound.

"Maybe Silver did hurt his hand. I won't dispute his word on that account, but I would like to see an X-ray of the injured member to satisfy myself that he isn't taking this means as the easiest way to escape a drubbing by Ace.

"The match would have been a nice warm-up affair for Ace prior to the June 6 battle with Tommy O'Brien at Ascot, and we would have demonstrated for Silver's satisfaction and that of his manager that the northerner has no business in the ring with Ace."

HANLON EXPRESSES GREAT SURPRISE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—William H. Hanlon, member of the State Athletic Commission for Northern California, when apprised of the statement of Jack Kearns that the Walker-Cooper match in San Francisco the 16th inst., was not to be a title bout, expressed the opinion that "this seems to be rather a late hour for this statement to be made."

Hanlon said he and the sporting public generally had believed the fight was to be for the welterweight championship. He added, however, that there were no rulings by the Athletic Commission which would cover the situation. Walter Yarwood, secretary of the commission, also said there were no rulings or regulations to govern the matter.

Unbeaten Prep Baseball Teams Will Clash This Afternoon

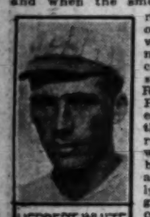
LINCOLN MEETS PIONEER CLUB

Game to be Staged on L.A. High Diamond

Home Nine Banks on Louie Alameda's Heaving

Railsplitters Boast Strong Hitting Outfit

Two unbeaten prep nines—Lincoln and L. A. High—clash this afternoon on the latter's diamond, and when the smoke battle has rolled away one of the two clubs will be a step nearer the 1925 city championship. Both the Railsplitters and Pioneers have eased through their first two rounds of play without getting bumped off, and consequently today's struggle should be a corker.



HERBERT WHITE

In Louie Alameda Coach Herbert White has one of the best pitchers in local prep ranks. He is also a splendid hitter and all in all should have a good day. Coach White plans to give Curtis Ray, a hustling youngster, a chance in right field today. With this exception his regular line-up is unchanged.

Lincoln boasts a strong hitting club, and Alameda will have to be right to dispose of his rivals. Either Peterson or Heidnery will do the flinging for Frank Hallette's crew. Heidnery is a southpaw. Ralph Lampe, a heavy hitter, will be behind the log.

Tomorrow Poly plays Manual Arts and Hollywood goes to Franklin.

THREE PER INNING GIVE INDIANS WIN

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PORTLAND (Or.) May 6.—Seattle compiled enough runs in sets of three to the inning today to beat Portland, 9 to 7, and knock the Beavers back to seventh place. After the Suds had acquired a five-run lead in the first two innings, Portland banged Stryker for six runs, and six hits in the third and went out in front, 7 to 6. This lead endured until the Seattle seventh, when a single by Brady, a walk to Brazill and Eldred's homer over the right-field fence for three runs put the Suds ahead again, 9 to 7, which was the final score. Dumovich pitched fine ball after relieving Stryker in the fourth. Score:

PREPS LEAVE TONIGHT

Southern California Trackmen Off for State Meet on Lark; Riverside Favored to Repeat

More than sixty Southern California prep track-and-field athletes leave tonight at 8 o'clock on the Lark for Palo Alto and the State track meet Saturday. Two cars will be used exclusively by the local teams. They will be accompanied by coaches, trainers and C.I.F. officials.

If the northern athletes don't do better Saturday than they have thus far, all this talk about a northern school winning the meet will get an awful jolt. A comparison of the best times and marks made by the Northern California athletes to those of the southerners, doesn't bring any happiness to the boys up-State. In only one event, the shot-put, is the Southland surpassed.

The biggest difference of all is in the comparative times for the mile run. Unruh of El Monte made the best time in the south this year in the Southern California meet last Saturday. He did 4m. 29 2-5s. White of Petaluma is the premier miler in the north. His time is 4m. 52 1-10s.

All in all, it looks like the four-cornered battle between Manual Arts, Hollywood, Riverside and San Diego will be fought over again at Palo Alto. Berkeley, Bakersfield, Chico, San Jose, Alameda, Tulare, Sutter City, Marysville and Concord rate highest in the north. Just how high they'll place in the totals depends on their second and third-place strength.

LOCAL HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETES NEED TRAINING IN JAVELIN

BY BRAVEN DYER

The recent visit of Paavo Nurmi, Lloyd Hahn, Johnni Myrra and other world-famous track stars undoubtedly put a lot of pepper into the local track season. For evidence of the quickened interest in track sports we have to point to two world and one Southern California records which fell at the big high school meet in the Coliseum Saturday.

Myrra's feats with the javelin brought a question to this writer's mind. Mayhap some of the learned high school officials can answer it. Why isn't the javelin included in the regular list of events for high school athletes?

In Northern California the sharp-pointed spear is used in prep meets. As a result California and Stanford, the institutions which draw the majority of northern high school stars, are annually fed with one or two javelin heavers. The harpoon never gets an official ride from local preps. U.S.C., Pomona, Occidental and other Southern California colleges must therefore develop their wand wafters after they enroll for higher education. Result—Bears and Cardinals a jump ahead of U.S.C., Pomona and Oxy in this particular event.

Of course, there are exceptions. Pomona has one of the best spear sailers in the West in the person of Charles Eaton. Eaton knew nothing of the javelin until he came to college. In his freshman year the event was not on the conference track program, but he fussed around with the long wand, anyway, and in the following season, when the event was actually introduced, Eaton stepped out and cleaned up big. His only defeat this year came against Myrra. During the season he trimmed Verne Dodson of California, the best of the northern collegiate stars in this event. Eaton holds the Southern California record at 188ft. 2¾in.

We recall a scene at the annual frosh conference meet a year ago March. "Fox" Stanton, Caltech coach, appeared with a nifty javelin tosser by the name of Mayhew. Harry Trotter of the Southern Branch had a very twood two-miler—believe his name was Schmidt. He's now a varsity star. The respective coaches got to squabbling among themselves as to what events should be included on the program. Occidental and Pomona had no men especially strong in either the javelin or two-mile. It was, therefore, to their advantage to have the two events erased from the bill of fare. A vote was taken. There was no javelin tossing or two-mile running in the meet that day.

Mayhew, who was really a comer, never got a chance to show his mettle, and when the roll was called this spring for Caltech track candidates, he was among those missing, having left school. This year the javelin throwing event was on the frosh program.

Mr. Bill Henry, whose column of fact and fable entitled "Observations" appears in these colyums daily, blew in about this time and informed us that the javelin was passe among local high schools because a lad once had the harpoon stuck through his neck by some wild-tossing chap. Sid Foster, Manual Arts track coach, sprained some of his high-powered muscles pulling the javelin out, but the athlete lived.

Unless our memory fails us at this point—and maybe it has—a couple of high school boys were killed this spring because somebody couldn't control the shot. Reasoning along the same line as that which applied to the javelin case, why hasn't the shot been abolished by the prep officials? The boys who were struck down this spring took part in out-of-town meets. We have seen most of the meets at the Coliseum this year and without exception they have been run off in fine style. Accidents have been unknown. Of course, now and then a boy stumbles over the hurdles and skins his knees a bit, but we don't hear any rumpus about wanting to abolish the stick-jumping events.

It's time to put the javelin back in good grace.

Angels Drop Second Game to Oakland

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OAKLAND, May 6.—Oakland defeated Los Angeles, 6 to 0, in the second game of the series here today, hitting the offerings of Payne at will. The veteran, George Foster, was in superb form, and the Angels could do little with him.

Arlett's hitting and base running was a feature of the game, the big outfielder stealing home and stretching an ordinary single into a two-base hit by a daring display of speed. Score:

VANCOUVER TEAM WILL COME HERE

Canadian Ice Hockey Champ Squad to Meet Monarchs This Month

Vancouver, Canadian Pacific Coast ice hockey champions, will invade Los Angeles for a five-game series with the Monarchs, California champions, at the Palais De Glace starting the 16th inst., was the announcement made by Bill Scott, father of hockey, last night.

The Monarchs finished first in the local ice hockey league and were awarded the championship at a meeting of the California Amateur Ice Hockey Association last night. Los Angeles finished second and Hollywood third. The two latter teams will meet to play off a protested game tonight.

Getting back to the big series between the Canadian champions and the Monarchs. The Canadians should win the series by virtue of their record, but the Monarchs are a powerful outfit and should prove a stumbling block to the Northerners. In Bill Shaver, Moose Galbraith, Chum Irvin, Clark and Phipps, Tommy Murray has five men that can play on about any amateur ice hockey team in America. Chum Irvin is a streak on the ice, an expert checker and a good stick handler. Galbraith is a demon in breaking up plays and Shaver can also bust them up and is an expert stick handler.

Until Vancouver becomes accustomed to the local rink, the Monarchs will have their chance to cop, but after that Vancouver should win the series. It will be a great series and there should be plenty of excitement.

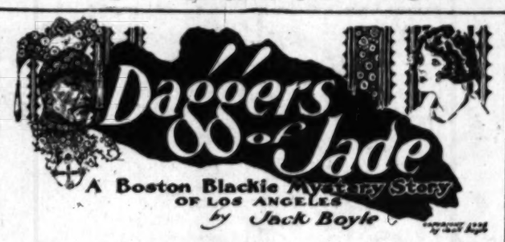
DISCOVERS IMMENSE ALUMINUM DEPOSITS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

TORREON (Mex.) May 6.—Engineer J. M. Garza Aldape of this city is certain that he has discovered a large deposit of bauxite in the Santa Rosalia mountains, near Camargo, State of Chihuahua. The foothills between these mountains and the Conchos River apparently are capped with this mineral, covering a surface area of about one mile wide by ten miles long. Analysis of the ores gives 59 per cent aluminum, 22 per cent water and the rest impurities, principally silica and titanium. The engineer says it would be impossible to estimate the full extent of the mineral deposit, but asserts there are several million tons in sight.

NARCOTIC ACT SENTENCES

NEW YORK, May 6.—Dr. Frederick M. Ranney, a physician for more than forty years, and Edward and Abraham Tartell, druggists, pleaded guilty before Federal Judge Thacher of violating the Federal Narcotic Act. Each was fined $1000 and sentenced to five years' imprisonment. The prison sentence was suspended under the new law. The defendants were forever enjoined from prescribing or filling prescriptions for habit-forming drugs.



The Times presents herewith another installment of Jack Boyle's new detective mystery yarn, especially written for The Times and in a Los Angeles setting. There will be daily installments until May 13, the last chapter being the vehicle for a novel contest in which The Times will pay $555 in cash prizes for the best solutions of the mystery. Don't miss any of it!

SYNOPSIS OF PRECEDING CHAPTERS

Sonia Lathrop, a beautiful girl registered at the Biltmore Hotel, recovers from a sweet to find herself handcuffed to a policeman murdered in Westlake Park with a jade handled dagger which matches another with which a Chinese has been slain in a Pullman car. The compartment in the Pullman had been occupied by a second girl, now missing with her baggage. "Pep" Kirby, Times reporter, finds that Sonia has disappeared from the side of the dead policeman, while Robert Thornton, who found her, is summoning the police. He locates her suite at the Biltmore, which has been ransacked and where there is no trace of the girl.

Sonia, meanwhile, has been recaptured in the park by a Chinese tong chief who has her conveyed, unconscious, to a stone dungeon. She regains her senses to endure the horrors of pitch darkness in which unseen wings brush her face. Light illumines the cell at last and an old Chinese hag and a young Chinese girl appear with food. The girl seems inclined to befriend Sonia and whispers that she will return alone. While Sonia is waiting for her the concealed door in the stone wall opens and she finds her implacable captor, the tong chief, confronting her.

Now go on with the story.

CHAPTER V

During a long silence the man's relentless eyes remained fixed upon Sonia's face. At last he took a step forward and spoke imperiously in Chinese. Instantly two men, each with a dagger held against his breast, point outward, stepped in and closed the entrance to the crypt. As she retreated before her visitor, step by step, until her back touched the farther wall, the girl noticed that the handles of the weapons were of carved jade and matched the one with which the policeman had been slain. Even in her fright, Sonia's curiosity was roused by the regal manner and priceless robes of her captor and, also, by the abject deference shown by the servitors behind him, who stood motionless with heads bowed above the jeweled daggers they held horizontally before their breasts.

In the Chinese before her, Sonia knew that she saw the all-powerful master whom the Chinese girl had named with awe. He was garbed in a long robe of Imperial yellow which covered him from chin to toe and which was ornamented with Chinese characters exquisitely embroidered in black. His loose, flaring sleeves hung below his crossed hands, which here hidden within them, in a vivid panel of blood-red silk, also elaborately embroidered. On the breast of the Imperial robe was a silver circle bisected from top to bottom and from left to right by a cross woven of gold chains, fine as silken threads. At each of the four points at which the cross of gold touched the silver circle, a jeweled star was set. The topmost star was formed of diamonds, the lower one of jade, and on the sides glittered one of rubies and another of pearls. This kingly costume was completed by Chinese slippers of gold cloth and a fan-shaped headdress of gold mesh marred in the center by a circular hole from which some accustomed ornament seemed missing.

So dazzled was Sonia by the present splendor of her enemy who, on the previous day, had been dressed in a rather shabby American business suit, that involuntarily, she dropped her eyes at the sound of his voice.

"Girl," he said in low but imperious tones, "yesterday you spoke with the semblance of truth and lied. Today guard your tongue from such a crime. To lie again is to condemn yourself to a fate that death itself will not ease. Be warned and obey."

The speaker paused, fixing his eyes upon her face with such piercing intensity that they seemed to probe her soul.

"Where have you hidden the Sacred Emblem which traitorous hands have thieved?" the inexorable voice demanded sternly. It took the last vestige of Sonia's will-power to raise her eyes and reply.

"You speak in riddles I cannot answer," she said falteringly. "I did not lie to you yesterday. I have never touched nor seen the circle of jewels you demand of me."

"Again you lie. You are brave with the courage of your ignorance. You hide a serpent-tongue with a mask of frankness," her accuser continued with an icy calmness more terrible than anger. "Yesterday, almost you deceived me. Today you cannot for we have searched your hotel room and found the empty hiding place where once you kept the jewel we seek. Will you restore the circlet?"

"I cannot," Sonia declared and then, hoping to parry threats with threats, she added: "You dare not harm me. Do you forget our police, our laws? It is you, not I, who have cause to be afraid."

The faintest shadow of a smile curled the thin lips of the Chinese.

"Your laws! Your police!" he echoed disdainfully. "Ignorant fool, do not delude yourself. There is no law here but my will. Thirty centuries before the birth of Christianity, the power of which this is the emblem," he laid his finger against the starred circle on his breast, "was created and has never grown less. As I speak, your police doubtless are loitering on street corners within a hundred feet of this spot, but if you were on another planet their aid would be no farther from you than it is. Law which is greater, older and more long-armed than yours governs here. It is just law to those who obey; it is merciless law when defied. Even yet, in your ignorance, you doubt? Your own eyes shall convince you."

The chieftain turned and gave an order in Chinese to the men behind him. They instantly swung open the door of the cell.

"Follow them," the Chinese commanded of Sonia and, as the girl shrank affrightedly back in her corner, he added: "You have nothing to fear—yet."

The girl, because she could not do otherwise, obeyed. The guides who proceeded her lighted an oil taper and led the way by its dim flame along a dark and narrow passage that twisted and turned like a rabbit burrow. Behind her Sonia heard the slippered step of the man from whose power there seemed no escape.

Once the passage sloped sharply downward and far above her head the girl heard the faint rumble of a car or train. She stumbled against a flight of steps and counted them—twelve—as she ascended. At last her guides stopped. She heard the creak of rusted hinges as a door was opened and a hand pushed her into a pitch-dark room. A second later she saw a faint glimmer of light as a heavy curtain was drawn back from a latticed wicket in the wall.

"Look into the Chamber of Justice, thou of the lying tongue, and take warning by the fate of him who is thy brother in deceit," the tong chief commanded.

The room into which Sonia peered was on a lower level than that in which she stood, so that the wicket opened into it from a spot near its ceiling. It was a square chamber lighted only by torches set in wall sockets. In one corner the life-sized image of a god squatted above an altar from which burning punks sent thin columns of pungent smoke curling upward. The wooden lips of the joss were parted in a grimace of inhuman cruelty and its immense eyes of reddish agate glowed in ugly, changing hues, as a hidden light behind them rose and fell. Surrounding the altar on every side were ancient Oriental instruments of torture the use of which, luckily, Sonia did not suspect.

The girl's eyes fixed themselves upon a sacrificial table placed directly in front of the grinning joss. On it rested an open coffin. Beside the coffin stood a man whose face and head were entirely concealed by a blood-red hood which covered him to the waist. The hooded figure bowed low before the wooden image, touching his forehead thrice to the floor as he intoned a ritual, ancient as the hills of the Middle Kingdom of China.

Presently the salaaming ended and the idol's votary arose and raised a lighted taper above the coffin. To her horror, Sonia saw that a man lay within it—a living man with staring eyes wide with fear. By the light of the raised torch she saw that the victim's bare arms and feet had been forced through holes in the bottom of the coffin and were tightly strapped beneath the table top.

The hooded one, after a final supplication to the idol, stooped toward the coffin and read a question from a parchment he ceremoniously unrolled. The hollow voice of the prisoner answered in a few brief but resolute words. Sonia heard a faint sound from the lips of the tong master at her side—a sound that seemed almost a sigh of reluctant admiration.

The inquisitor at the coffin bowed again at the feet of the joss and loudly repeated the answer made by the prisoner. The eyes of the idol seemed to redden as if with renewed fury. As if this were a spoken command, the pagan priest seized a hammer and struck a gong whose deep, dirge-like reverberation echoed endlessly from wall to wall. From a glowing brazier which stood upon the altar, he took a white-hot circlet of iron fashioned in the shape of the insignia embroidered upon the breast of the tong chief's robe. For a second he held it poised above the coffin. Then he thrust it down and pressed hard upon the long handle to which it was attached.

Sonia heard a faint, quickly stifled cry; there followed a sizzling sound and a wisp of smoke rose, carrying with it a burning odor from which the girl fled to the farthest corner of the room—an odor like, but less terrible than that which pollutes the electrocution chambers used by a white race which never doubts its own civilization.

From the corner where she kneeled with her face hidden by twitching hands, the girl was lifted to her feet. The door opened at a word from the tong chief and Sonia thankfully tottered into the untainted air of the tunnel. No word was spoken until she was again in her own stone cell. Then the Chinese stepped close to her side.

"You have seen—a little," he was within the coffin disdains the murmured, the pause giving emphasis to the last word. "He who weakness of lying. He refuses to betray an accomplice, though he is a rebel against the ancient law. Thus, he has achieved a measure of virtue, for loyalty to a comrade is never a crime. He will suffer, but he will live."

Against her will Sonia raised her eyes to the cold, inscrutable gaze that was fixed upon her white face.

"Tonight, when you lie within the coffin of interrogation with falsehood upon your lips, you will lack the justification of him you have seen. Think well, girl, before you challenge the justice of the Chamber from which, if you enter, you will not return."

Without waiting for a reply the tong chief left the cell, the stone door closed behind him and Sonia Lathrop was left alone to face a maddening vision of herself strapped within the altar coffin while a red-hooded torturer poised his branding iron above her shrinking body.

DAVIS LOSES IN MOVE TO DODGE TRIAL

Plea to Quash Pardons Selling Charge Against ex-Governor Denied

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

TOPEKA, May 6.—District Judge James A. McClure today denied a plea by attorneys for former Gov. Jonathan M. Davis to quash the criminal proceedings pending against the ex-Governor. The trial of Davis on a charge of illicit dealings in executive clemency is scheduled to start in Judge McClure's court next Monday.

A motion by the State to add Judge S. S. Irwin, pardon and parole clerk under the Davis administration, to the roster of State's witnesses, was allowed by the court. Judge Irwin is expected by the State Prosecutor to shed light on the alleged conspiracy to sell pardons to prisoners in the State penitentiary, in which the former Governor, his political lieutenant and State Bank Commissioner, Carl J. Peterson, and Davis's son, Russell, are implicated in suits awaiting trial.

Col. A. M. Harvey, counsel for Mr. Davis, asked Judge McClure to quash the case against his client on the ground that sufficient evidence had not been produced definitely to show criminal acts were committed.

When this was refused County Attorney Paul Heinz moved that Judge Irwin be included in the list of witnesses and the State's move was upheld.

Rum-Smuggling Informers Get Share in Fines

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—Citizens who inform the Federal authorities of liquor smuggling activities leading to the conviction of bootleggers under the customs law will receive 25 per cent of the fines imposed and of the money obtained through the sale of the seized boats, Edward Barnes, assistant solicitor to the collector of the port, announced.

CAUSE FOR HOLIDAY

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

MIAMI (Ariz.) May 6.—Five days' delay in cleaning out the old power canal above Roosevelt was caused by the finding of forty gallons of "white mule" in a prospect hole. The Apache Indian laborers forthwith declared a holiday festival. It is said there was an immediate shedding of civilization and return to the customs of tribal days, with many frenzied dances.

A PROTEST AGAINST FRICTION

ROLLS-ROYCE

"BUT friction cannot be eliminated," said a prominent automotive engineer . . . "if it could, a motor car would almost last forever."

The amazing long life of a Rolls-Royce demonstrates beyond question that friction can be reduced to an almost undreamed-of minimum. A child of five years can push a Rolls-Royce limousine on a level street. Jack up the rear wheels. Notice how they move apparently of themselves. Why? Because the slight weight of the tire valve alone more than equals the friction of the wheel bearings, the propeller shaft, the differential gears and the transmission.

Because friction has been so nearly eliminated, our three-year guarantee for every mechanical part costs us only $2 per car to make good. When you know that twenty years of service, practically no up-keep cost, and over 600,000 miles of motor comfort await you, you realize that this is not only the most comfortable car in the world, but a common-sense investment.

You should take the 100-mile trial trip. Select any roads you desire. Let us show you an ideal of motoring you have never thought possible before.

PUBLISHER SEES IMPROVED PRESS

Predicts Fewer and Better Newspapers

Notes Increasing Valuation of Careful Work

Denies That Revenue Interest Dictates Policy

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

COLUMBIA (Mo.) May 6.—The tendency is more to painstaking effort in the presentation of today's news, which must be truthful, ably written, and so worth while in every way "that editors cannot leave it out," Elbert H. Baker, president of the Cleveland Plain Dealer told students of the school of journalism of the University of Missouri today. Mr. Baker is a member of the board of directors of the Associated Press.

Every worth-while newspaper keeps faith with its readers and the source of its news and in the observance of the ethics of its profession, Mr. Baker said.

The bitterly partisan newspaper happily has gone and a brighter one come, he said, with instead of the old-time individuality, highly organized teamwork.

"I predict that as the days go by we will have fewer newspapers and better, and that we will learn to think more in world terms and not merely in terms of our own back yard," he said.

Mr. Baker denied that "we have sold ourself body and soul to the advertiser."

He said the great store is under insistent pressure each day to use to the full the newspaper which will move seasonable merchandise which in a few days may pass the peak of value.

"If the newspaper is serving its community ably and well; if it is following the rule of common sense and common every-day honesty and dealing with local, State and national questions, it will deserve and hold the respect and good will of its community and all this will be evidenced by a large and growing circulation," Mr. Baker said.

"It will be more a question of the space available to the advertiser than the rate, questions of politics, race or religion do not enter."

GRAIN CHARGES INQUIRY CALLED

Chicago Trade Board Action in Matter Disclosed

Market Concern Officials Will be Interrogated

Statements on Depression in Prices Quiz Subjects

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

CHICAGO, May 6.—The Chicago Board of Trade has authorized an inquiry by a special committee into published statements attributed to George E. Marcy, chairman, and E. F. Rosenbaum, member of the board of managers of the Grain Marketing Company, it was disclosed today.

In a statement issued in Washington and published in last Sunday's newspapers, Mr. Marcy is credited with the declaration that the depression in grain prices last fall and winter was caused by the huge holdings of speculators and that but for the artificial technical condition developed through speculative manipulations, conditions had warranted a high-price level for all grain this year.

One speculative account held such an enormous line of grain as "to constitute a menace," and the law of supply and demand had not been allowed unrestricted play, Mr. Marcy was reported as asserting.

Statements yesterday attributed to Mr. Rosenbaum were to the effect that there was manipulation in May rye and corn transactions. He was out of the city when the statement was published and confirmation of it could not be obtained from his office.

The Board of Trade, however, took cognizance of the published stories and the directors instructed President F. L. Carey to appoint a special committee, which should call in Messrs. Marcy and Rosenbaum in respect to the statements attributed to them.

Under the grain futures law, members of grain exchanges are required when they have evidence or even suspicion of any improper trading methods to report to the Federal Grain Futures Administration and also to the Board of Trade. It was under that provision of the law that the directors of the Board of Trade authorized the inquiry.

It also was understood that President Carey has asked the Federal grain futures supervisor to investigate the charges and take necessary action to determine whether the statements were founded or unfounded or whether there was any intent to affect the market. Mr. Rosenbaum is still absent from the city. Dr. J. W. T. Duvel, Federal grain futures supervisor, here, said tonight that as long as the Board of Trade was going to conduct the investigation his department would take no action for the present at least. He said that while the board's inquiry was on his department would not investigate unless a new set of circumstances arose.

MODERNISM HELD DEATH TO MISSIONS

Fundamentalist Asserts Hindus' Faith in Bible is Destroyed

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

MEMPHIS (Tenn.) May 6.—Arraignment of "modernist" practices in Christian work in India and an indictment of missionary activities of Presbyterians of the Northern Assembly, was contained in an address delivered here today before the World Christian Fundamental convention by Watkin Roberts, general secretary of the Northeast India General Mission.

Mr. Roberts, who spoke on "Modernism in India," declared that the Presbyterian missionaries, as members of the Presbyterian Church in India, have "given the most staggering blow to Christian work in India that it has received during the last decade."

The speaker said orthobox Indian Christians have maintained that hundreds are returning to idolatry because their faith in the Bible and the Christ of the Bible is being destroyed by these missionaries and modernism.

The Presbyterian Union Church was merged into what is known now as the Union Church of North India, Mr. Roberts said, and as such probably will be the strongest modernist church in the Indian Empire. The speaker urged those of his auditors holding membership in the Northern Assembly of the Presbyterian Church either to right this situation and withdraw its agents from "this unholy union," or to cease supporting this work.

Mischa Elman and 'Ideal Girl' Wed in Bay City

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6.—Mischa Elman, violinist, and Miss Helen Frances Katten, local society girl, were married here today at the home of Miss Katten's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Simon Katten. The only guests were near relatives of the couple. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Louis I. Newman. Mr. and Mrs. Elman will leave in a few days for New York and Europe.

The engagement was announced several months ago when the violinist said he had found his "ideal girl."

Court Acquits Naval Officer in Whisky Case

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NORFOLK (Va.) May 6.—Commander D. W. Fuller, commanding the naval transport Beaufort, was acquitted by a court martial at the naval base here today of all three charges alleging neglect of duty in connection with the finding aboard his ship of 500 quarts of whisky when it docked here in February.

Mrs. Saunders Tells how Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Relieved Troubles of Change of Life

Knoxville, Tenn.—"I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound while going through the Change of Life. I was very nervous, could not sleep and had melancholy spells. In fact, I was nearly insane at times and my memory was almost a blank. I was so weak I could not do my housework half of the time and suffered dreadfully with my back. My doctor said I would have to worry it out and I went through this for three years before I began taking the Vegetable Compound which I saw advertised. I think it was eight bottles that I took. It has been two years since I took any and I haven't had a doctor since for that trouble. I do all my washing and ironing and I have gained from 116 to 138 pounds. I advise all women who suffer physically and mentally as I did to give the Vegetable Compound a fair trial. I hope it will do as much for them as it did for me."—Mrs. T. A. SAUNDERS, 711 E. How to Avoid "Rings" in Removing Grease Spots

1. Place a clean cloth or blotter under the Grease Spot. (This is to carry away the Grease as it runs through the fabric after it is dissolved by the Carbona.)
2. Saturate a clean cloth with Carbona, using it freely, and gently rub the Grease Spot back and forth with a sweeping motion as illustrated—never rub in circles. Raise your hand at the end of each stroke after passing the edge of the spot. (This blends the edges of the spot cleaned with the rest of the fabric and prevents a "ring".)
3. Rub gently as it is the Carbona that cleans, not the rubbing.

NEW TEACHERS' SOCIETY MEETS

Is Successor to High School Association

Purpose is Research Work in Education

Articles of Incorporation Are Recorded

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OAKLAND, May 6.—Educators from more than twenty California cities were assembled here today prepared to hold tomorrow the organization meeting of the California Society for the Study of Secondary Education. Articles of incorporation for the new society were filed in Sacramento today by C. L. Biedenbach of Berkeley, president of the California State High School Teachers' Association, which ends its existence with the creation of the new body.

Plans for the new organization were perfected by a number of leading educators at a meeting held recently in Santa Barbara. The purpose of the organizers is to promote, through educators themselves, reforms which are deemed progressive and beneficial in secondary schools of the State.

Referring to the plans of the incorporators, A. J. Cloud, chief deputy superintendent of schools in San Francisco, said:

"The plan is a simple one, it represents an effort to retain the best of the old methods of teaching and adopt the better thought of our present-day educators in bringing about reforms from within in the educational world."

Professors identified with education and teacher training at Stanford, the University of California, University of California, Southern Branch, and the University of Southern California have indorsed the plan, according to Lewis B. Avery, of the Oakland Department of Education.

The society will retain headquarters at Berkeley and will have four classes of membership, corporate, associate, library and sustaining. Under its charter it will be permitted to receive endowment funds from friends of education interested in bringing about needed reform through educational and not legislative channels.

"Those on the list of delegates for the organization meeting here tomorrow, incorporators of the society, are:

Lewis B. Avery, Oakland; F. H. Boren, Oakland; Arnold H. Bowhay, Santa Maria; Arthur H. Chamberlain, Pasadena; A. R. Clifton, Monrovia; W. J. Cooper, Fresno; A. O. Cooperrider, Arcata; John F. Dale, Sacramento; J. F. Engle, Auburn; L. P. Farris, Oakland; Arthur Gould, Los Angeles; E. W. Hauck, Reedley, Merton E. Hill, Ontario; W. H. Hughes, Pasadena; George O. Jensen, Eureka; Charles E. Keyes, Oakland; J. R. McKillip, Selma; Homer Martin, Santa Barbara; Willard M. Patty, Berkeley; Horace M. Rebok, Santa Monica; Alice Ball Struthers, Los Angeles; Robert J. Teall, Maderá; J. C. Templeton, Hughson; George O. Templeton, Alameda, and H. O. Williams, Colusa.

ARTICLES FILED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SACRAMENTO, May 6.—High-school principals and educators in various parts of the State today filed articles of incorporation of the California Society for the Study of Secondary Education, with headquarters in Berkeley.

The purpose of the society, according to the articles, is "to conduct research in education, with specific reference to secondary education and to disseminate information concerning and the facts of the present system of education."

LIQUOR GUARDED BY POISON OAK

Officers Get 5000 Gallons of Wine in Ranch Storehouse

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

SAN FRANCISCO, May 6. Poison oak entwined about a storehouse at a ranch near Pleasanton failed today to halt prohibition agents hunting wine. The officers were told that the poison oak prevented Ettore Quallo from using the storehouse, but one agent, braver than the others, plunged through the vines and seized 5000 gallons of wine.

The vines had no roots, being festooned by hand. Quallo was jailed in Oakland.

CIVIL WAR IN CHINA AGAIN ON HORIZON

Early Outbreak Possibly Involving Foreign Powers Predicted

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PEKING, May 6.—An early outbreak of an extensive civil war, possibly involving foreign powers, seems imminent, although there are no large troop movements. The commanders of foreign troops stationed in China under the Boxer protocol are conferring at Tientsin on methods necessary to keep the Peking route open, while the commandants of the legation guards are drafting a precautionary defense. Large American business interests are placing war risk insurance.

The issue is between Chang Tso-Lin, the Manchurian war lord, who is controlling the seaports, and Feng Yu Hsiang, the Christian general, who holds Peking. Feng is receiving munitions from Russia through Mongolia, which the British Legation is informed were convoyed by the Russians almost to Kalgan Pass.

The indications are that Feng Yu Hsiang has become allied with the Communist faction in Peking, thus getting the aid of the Russians and throwing Japan, Great Britain and America into the lap of the Peking government, which Chang Tso Lin has supported. The action of Feng in uniting with the Reds probably will result in the setting aside of the arms embargo. Although foreign complications may possibly be avoided, the legations and other foreigners consider the situation as being delicate.

Vincent Astor Home is Bought by ex-Polander

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 6.—New York is to lose another landmark. Vincent Astor yesterday sold the Astor residence at Fifth avenue and Sixty-fifth street, long one of the city's show places and headquarters of society's "400," to Benjamin Winter, who came here penniless from Poland twenty-four years ago, and did odd jobs for his landlord to pay his first month's rent.

The entire property bought by Winter, including plots adjoining the Astor home, at 844 Fifth avenue and 5-7 East Sixty-fifth street, recently was assessed at $2,345,000.

Mr. Winter, who began life in this city as a house painter, and has become one of the largest owners of real estate in the city in the last ten years, plans to raze the Astor home and erect a twenty-story apartment-hotel at a cost of about $10,000,000.

LIQUOR CACHE CLEVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

PHOENIX, May 6.—In a raid made by the Sheriff, "evidence" of bootlegging was lacking until there was investigation of the contents of an innocent-looking fire extinguisher that hung on a wall. It was found that the liquid contained hardly would have served to extinguish a blaze, for "firewater" of the worst possible sort came from the hose.

RUM ROW BATTLE RAGES

Dry Navy Pushes Frontal Attack With Two Wings Ready to Head Off Retreat of Liquor Fleet

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 6.—The blockade of rum row took on the aspect of a naval engagement this afternoon with units of the dry navy prepared to execute a flank movement, if the enemy fleet attempted to quit its base off Sandy Hook. The battle line extended from Boston to Cape May. The center of operations is at coast guard base No. 2, at Stapleton, Staten Island. The left wing is at Boston and the right wing at Atlantic City. These extremities were ordered to head off a possible coastwise retreat north or south.

Meanwhile, the frontal attack was being pushed vigorously. It was reported that seaplanes had been brought into action. Reinforcements were waiting to relieve patrol boats which have been on duty since early yesterday.

Twelve planes had already put out and were co-operating with the sea forces, it was said. Capt. W. V. E. Jacobs, commanding the base, said this phase of the situation was "a matter of operations" he could not discuss. One plane left Rockaway Point last night after undergoing repairs. Its destination was not disclosed.

The revenue cutters Seminole and Mojave were getting up steam this morning at the Stapleton base. They will be accompanied by fifteen more picket boats. This will make a total fleet of forty-two picket boats and eight revenue cutters, the largest assemblage of marine forces that ever attempted to suppress bootlegging.

The picket boats are fast motor-driven craft ranging from fifty to sixty feet over all. They are manned by a boatswain's mate and ten men. In all, about 300 men will be added to the dry fleet by today's reinforcements.

The exact hour the additional fleet will sail was not made known, but it is understood it will get under way before nightfall.

La Batalla contra los Licoristas Está en todo su Furor

NUEVA YORK, May 6.—Esta tarde ha tomado todo el aspecto de un encuentro naval el bloqueo de la "fila del ron", y las unidades de la flota "seca" están preparadas para ejecutar un movimiento de flanco, si la flota enemiga intentare abandonar su base frente a Sandy Hook. La línea de batalla se extendía desde Boston hasta Cape May. El centro de operaciones se halla en la base número 2 de guardacostas, sita en Stapleton, Staten Island. El ala izquierda está en Boston, y la derecha en Atlantic City. A los extremos se les dio orden de interceptar cualquiera posible retirada hacia el norte o hacia el sur, a lo largo de la costa.

Entretanto, se ha estado llevando adelante con toda energía el ataque de frente. Dícese que han entrado en juego los hidroaviones. Ya estaban listos los refuersos que han de relevar a los barcos de patrulla que están en servicio desde ayer temprano.

Ya doce aeroplanos habían emprendido el vuelo y estaban cooperando, según se dice, con la fuerzas de mar. Dijo el Capitán W. V. E. Jacobs, comandante del apostadero, que no podía discutir las operaciones de está fase de la situación. Anoche partió un avión de Rockaway Point, después de haber sufrido reparaciones, sin que se sepa adonde va destinado.

Los "cutters" fiscales "Seminole" y "Mojave" estaban haciendo vapor hoy en la mañana en el apostadero de Stapeton, y van a salir acompañados de quince embarcaciones más, para servicio de avanzada. De este modo quedrá constituída una escuadra de cuarenta y dos barcos de avanzada y ocho "cutters" fiscales, el conjunto mayor de fuerzas navales que hasta hoy se ha empleado en suprimir el matute licorero.

Los barcos de avanzada son gasolineras rápidas, que tienen de cincuenta a sesenta pies de eslora, tripuladas por un segundo contramaestre y diez hombres. En total, los refuerzos de hoy le han aportado trescientos hombres más a la flota "seca".

No se sabe a qué hora se hará a la mar la flota adicional; pero se presume que se pondrá en marcha antes del oscurecer.

Explosión a Bordo del Paquebote Manchuria

Trescientos pasajeros de Los Angeles van a bordo del paquebote "Manchuria", barco abanderado de la línea Panamá-Pacífico, que ayer temprano fue averiado por una explosión en el departamento de calderas. En radiograma puesto por su comandante, el Capitán William J. Munro, y recogido en el puerto de Los Angeles, se daba parte a la compañía de que un fogonero y un aceitador habían sido muertos, y lesionados algunos otros miembros de la tripulación.

Según el despacho del Capitán Munro, no hubo ningún pasajero lastimado, y el buque ha seguido a marcha lenta su derrotero hacia Balboa, adonde se esperaba llegase anoche. El vapor estaba fuera de peligro inmediato.

El Manchuria, que zarpó el 27 de Abril último del puerto de Los Angeles para los de la Habana y Nueva York, llevaba más de 500 viajeros y 10.000 toneladas de mercaderías de California.

El y su hermano "El Mongolia" son los buques más grandes de los de tráfico costanero. Ambos fueron construídos en 1902 para la Pacific Mail Steamship Company, destinados al tráfico transpacífico, en el que se les empleó hasta 1915, en que los compró la International Mercantile Marine, que inauguró con ellos el servicio entre Nueva York, Los Angeles y San Francisco, de la línea Panamá-Pacífico.

Es el Manchuria un vapor de acero de 27.000 toneladas de desplazamiento, y de 8750 toneladas netas. Tiene 600 pies de eslora y sesenta y cinco pies de manga.

BLAST VICTIMS ARE ALL OF ONE FAMILY

DEATH LIST INCREASED TO EIGHT AS DETECTIVES SEEK PERPETRATOR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

PITTSBURGH, May 6.—Firemen, searching the ruins of three Swissvale buildings, destroyed by an explosion shortly after last midnight, recovered two additional bodies today, making the total death list eight.

The eight victims of the explosion were members of the same family. Mr. and Mrs. Clement Jeremias were the parents of Mrs. Carl Keglar and Mrs. Carl Baldus, all of whom were killed together with their husbands and a son of Mr. and Mrs. Baldus. Mrs. Marie Kohlte, the eighth victim, was a sister of Mrs. Jeremiahs.

Fire Marshal Thomas Pfarr said he believed the blast was caused by dynamite or nitroglycerine, bearing out the police theory that the explosion was the work of Black Handers.

County detectives were making an effort to locate Thomas Pusatera, owner of a fruit store in which the explosion occurred. It was said that Pusatera had received threatening letters recently.

SANTA MONICA

CREAM OF LIFE IN AMERICA

The natural advantages of Southern California for a fuller, better happier life have fixed the thought of a continent upon it.

It is natural that ideals should flourish here. People take a keen interest in life. Their thought is lifted up with joy, appreciation, gratitude.

Keen minds over the country observe, catch the enthusiasm and come.

Intellectual, artistic and spiritual development go on apace.

Industry follows population and finds that it too is much better off --- first by economies of climate and location, and second by the high character of the population.

Los Angeles as the natural capital of the great Empire of the Southwest is the broad summit of this development---its business center and clearinghouse.

Great development, strategic location and a good harbor cause world commerce to pour its influence into this spot.

The cream of life from all this is going to rise somewhere. It is going to rise at Santa Monica --- for three principal reasons: Santa Monica Bay, Santa Monica Mountains and the setting sun.

For years it has been rising steadily westward from Broadway to the Palisades. And now the great unfoldment at Santa Monica is taking place.

Within a year a great University and a strong men's college in the district, six important clubs, scenic Beverly Boulevard, Mulholland Skyline Drive, widened Wilshire Boulevard, great new amusement buildings, the Shoreham apartment hotel for Ocean Avenue, the new Miramar, elegant homes, besides all the lesser projects and construction.

These are forerunners of what is coming --- and coming, as you see, with great rapidity.

Climate, comfort, beauty, and convenience to the heart and center of all this great and interesting life cause the cream to rise at Santa Monica as surely as the tide follows the moon.

Above all things physical there are two things we want at this time ---the most perfect, beautiful and attractive tourist hotels that human skill and abundant resources can build and a breakwater that will do justice to so great a destiny as that of Santa Monica Bay.

Education—Culture

Santa Monica is destined to be one of the greatest centers of education. The selection of sites for the State University and Occidental College within a few months establishes this.

College work can go on here twelve months in the year with joy and zest, and advantages perhaps unequaled.

If "the education of a people is measured by its ideals and principles" (Webster) Santa Monica already stands in the limelight—which is the reason institutions like these are seeking this as their home.

With nearly 2000 acres devoted exclusively to Christian education and ideals in Pacific Palisades, 1000 acres for an ideal college community in the Occidental site, 385 acres for the campus grounds of the State University, with the best thought in America rising logically to a climax at Santa Monica—what will our culture be?

Social—Residential

A wealthy United States Senator, although serving the State of Nevada in the Senate for thirty years, made his family home in Santa Monica.

Many people from a distance will make Santa Monica their home for the same reasons he did. But the more important fact is that the world's most interesting metropolis centers just 17 miles east of the Santa Monica Palisades, and its high-class residential development is westward, coming to a climax at Santa Monica.

As a high-class residential center, a college center, a tourist and hotel center, a sports and clubs center, with remarkable scenery of mountains, mesas, canyons, sea and marine sunsets, with practically perfect and ideal climate and comfort twelve months in the year, Santa Monica's social advantages are found to be of a high standard, well balanced and unique.

Recreation—Amusement

When the people of the great city of Los Angeles seek recreation and amusement they turn naturally toward Santa Monica Bay. Every month in the year it is their greatest playground and garden of inspiration.

The potentialities of this great bay are only partially developed. That development will proceed and continue through the years.

When pleasure boat harbors and excursion boat landings are built, as they soon must be, the bay will be covered with joyful life as well as bordered with it.

Santa Monica Bay and beach, mountains, canyons, and Crescent Coast are the outdoor area of Los Angeles. They are a never ceasing attraction to our own metropolitan population and to the inlander and mid-continent tourist and vacationist.

The shore of Santa Monica Bay has the largest and highest class development of amusements on the Pacific Coast.

Tourists—Hotels

Santa Monica has its summer tourists from the inland and its winter tourists from the North and Canada.

Its greatest tourist activity will be developed from now on.

This depends upon the construction of highest class tourist hotels—and the next eighteen months are expected to witness the completion of one or more of these.

When we have several of the best hotels that can be built—as we are certain to have in the very near future—Santa Monica will take a leading position as a tourist and society center.

To develop and sustain this business Santa Monica will advertise nationally and a new impulse will be felt with marked effect on the Santa Monica area.

The result will be more tourists, more big hotels, more fine homes, more business and activity in all lines.

Sports—Clubs

The key to what Santa Monica means in sports and club life may be taken from the fact that the Los Angeles Athletic Club has purchased 250 acres in Santa Monica Canyon for polo, golf and all outdoor and field sports, and will build an elaborate club building on one side of the canyon,—and that the Uplifters' Club, an organization of prominent Los Angeles business and professional men, owns large acreage in Rustic Canyon, which it has improved with an elegant club house and many expensive homes for its members.

There are many beach clubs, seven within about a mile, two of the largest—from $600,000 to $750,000 each—now under construction.

The Brentwood Country Club is a leader in golf—especially attractive to the ladies.

A large yacht club, breakwater, and harbor are planned for the Crescent Coast.

Santa Monica business men have their own athletic and beach club.

Drives—Scenic

No place in Southern California is so famed for its scenic beauty as Santa Monica. The bay—17 miles wide by 11 miles inland—the wide sands and palisades, the mesas and canyons, the far ocean horizon and serrated nearby mountain sky line, the Crescent Coast where the mountains come down to the sea, and the marine sunsets that paint the sky so gloriously, all make a picture—a thousand pictures—that lift thought to rapturous altitudes.

Coast Highway, Skyline Drive, Ocean Avenue, San Vicente, Beverly Boulevard are all unique, scenic, beautiful drives.

Palisades Park—along the top of the Palisades—is also unique—and wonderfully beautiful. Drive leisurely westward on Ocean Avenue beside this park when the sun is about half a hand high, pause at the brink of the canyon and look—if not drive—up the Crescent Coast, and tell us where in the world are things like these.

Climate—Comfort

Warm in winter—cool in summer. Comfortable indoors or out every day in the year. The lowest temperature reached in winter is 32—highest 81—mean 53. The highest temperature in summer is 89—lowest 44—mean 62.

Rainfall is less than 15 inches—principally from December to April. Warm ocean current keeps winter mild and beautiful. Ocean breeze in summer makes air cool, refreshing and delightful.

Mountains fend off cold winds in winter and no desert winds reach Santa Monica in summer.

The climate is a fitting companion to the scenic beauty and strategic location. Altogether they make an unbeatable combination.

Eastern, northern and southern people seek California for its climate. Californians seek Santa Monica for its climate. It is the choice of that which is choice. Never very warm, never very cold—always ideal for work or play.

Jubilee—Future

July 4, 1925, will be Santa Monica's jubilee. Her first fifty years have been picturesque, interesting and happy for those who desired and could afford to live quietly. But now the throbbing life of a great metropolis overflows into Santa Monica for its finer and pleasanter activities.

It is now becoming a great educational, recreational, residential, social, tourist, hotel, amusement, sport and club center.

It is not expected to become a great industrial location, yet it achieved world-wide fame in one line of manufacturing in a few weeks in 1924.

The World Flight planes were made in Santa Monica. That is why the flight started here. That factory is now erecting new buildings to handle its greatly increased contracts for planes. Santa Monica will always be a great flying center.

Santa Monica's future will be crowded with activity in education, religion, sports, clubs, amusements, and great tourists hotels.

WANT TO KNOW WHERE MONEY IS

Pasadena Citizens Request Information

Put Direct Questions Up to Council

Threaten Suit to Stop All Expenditures

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 6.—Threats of another lawsuit against the city of Pasadena were contained in an official communication presented to the Board of City Directors by Daniel Riordan, local attorney, in behalf of a group of Pasadena taxpayers. The communication asserts that if six questions asked are not adequately answered by the board a suit to stop all proceedings in connection with the building of a Civic Center will be instigated in Superior Court.

The taxpayers represented by Attorney Riordan want to know first, if any of the $3,500,000 voted for the Civic Center found its way into hands not entitled to it; second, have the people obtained an adequate return for the money already expended on the project; third, what amount must be provided to pay for the completed work; fourth, how much money is there on hand available for the Civic Center; fifth, how much of a deficit will there be after the entire $3,500,000 has been expended, and sixth, where will additional funds come from?

The entire question hinges on a deficit of $750,000 which will exist after all the bond money is spent. When the old Board of Directors put this second sum up to be voted by the electors the issue was defeated. The next plan was to award the contract for the library building first. It was thought that by erecting the library and auditorium before the City Hall citizens would then vote money to complete the City Hall, the most needed of the three buildings.

An injunction suit was issued to restrain the Directors from taking this action. The injunction was thrown out of court and awarding of the library contract was the last important act of the board before they gave up their seats to new men, who previously had declared themselves against awarding the library contract.

Matters were complicated when William Crowell, contractor, who had secured the library contract from the old board, offered to return his contract to the new board. Whether or not the contract will be taken back will be decided by the Directors at a special meeting tomorrow morning. At the same time the communication presented by the unknown group of taxpayers will also be considered.

Should the Directors decide to take back the library contract the city will be liable for damages for all losses sustained by the contractors, the City Attorney has ruled.

Monrovia to Teach Kiddies How to Swim

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

MONROVIA, May 6.—Eight hundred Monrovia children, between the ages of 8 and 18, will be taught to swim, if plans as announced today by the Rotary Club are carried out.

The city will open a magnificent new municipal swimming pool in Recreation Park, but a survey of the schools developed that only three out of ten children could swim.

The Rotarians, co-operating with city officials, will bring a swimming and life-saving expert for a six-weeks' period of free lessons as soon as the pool is opened early in June after the schools close.

The plan also includes evening classes for business men and women.

COURT DECIDES MAN WAS INTOXICATED

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

RIVERSIDE, May 6.—Did intoxication or anger render Dan Taylor unable to talk when he was arrested on the Banning-Beaumont highway by a county traffic officer, April 19.

Judge William H. Ellis decided the question today by sentencing Taylor to one year in the County Jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated. At the end of sixty days Taylor may be permitted to file petition for parole.

In court today Taylor contended that he was unable to answer the officer's questions because he was too angry. The officer said Taylor was too drunk.

His arrest was the result of numerous complaints from motorists who said they had been run off the highway by Taylor's machine.

VETERAN SECRETARY RESIGNS POSITION

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

WHITTIER, May 6.—Myron J. Haig, for ten years secretary of the Whittier Chamber of Commerce, has resigned his position and the resignation was accepted by the board of directors last night.

Mr. Haig, who in point of service ranked next to the late Frank Wiggins of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, gave ill health as his reason for resigning. He had been eminently successful as a secretary, and during the past ten years had built the chamber up from a handful of members to a roster of 400 active city boosters. No appointment to fill the vacancy has as yet been made. Mr. Haig's resignation is to take effect June 15.

COUNCIL IN FIGHT WITH EXECUTIVE

Trouble Over Appointment of Police Chief Stirs Official San Diego

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

SAN DIEGO, May 6.—The breach between Mayor John Bacon and members of the City Council over the proposed reappointment of Chief of Police James Patrick was widened today when the three opposing Councilmen ordered the City Attorney to prepare an opinion as to the Council's power to make appointments. If the City Attorney rules that the Council has such power the next move is expected to be the ousting of Chief Patrick and the naming of his successor.

Chief Patrick's term has expired and the Mayor Monday sent to the Council his reappointment. The Council referred the confirmation of this to a conference. The purpose of this conference, it is said, is to determine whether the Council wants Patrick to remain or to force the Mayor to name some other to be Chief. The opinion asked of the City Attorney by the three Councilmen is whether, in the event the Mayor refuses to make some other appointment, the Council can do so. The general opinion in Council circles prevails that the Council can.

Mayor Bacon is standing pat on his selection of Patrick. In the event that the Council refuses to recognize his selection it is declared that Bacon's friends will insist on an attempt at recourse through medium of the recall.

Trouble Brews as Voters Seek to Oust Officers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

HUNTINGTON BEACH, May 6. That trouble may develop here between those who are seeking the recall of two members of the City Council and others supporting the city governing body was seen when recallers intimated that they would ignore refusals of the City Trustees to permit them to use the municipal auditorium tonight for a mass meeting in which to nominate prospective candidates to run as successors to the two men whose recall is sought.

Recallers, who are said to be acting for the Ku Klux Klan, received another rebuff in their plans when City Councilmen ordered City Attorney L. W. Blodgett to draft the necessary papers and ordinances to provide for the calling of a special election and then adjourned until June 1.

It is pointed out that between thirty and forty days must elapse between the setting of the date for the election and the time when it can take place, so that the matter cannot come to a vote before some time in July.

Recallers who appeared before the Board of Trustees at their regular session this week to demand why they had been refused the use of the city auditorium were told that the board members "used their discretion in refusing the hall." Trustees later added that "the recallers only wished to stir up more trouble in the city."

No angle as to what will be done tonight in the way of an effort to get the auditorium, despite the refusal of City Trustees, could be learned from the leaders of the recall. They have also been refused the use of the Woman's clubhouse.

VALLEY TURNS OUT TO SEE "LA GOLONDRINA"

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, May 6.—Tonight is San Fernando Valley night at "La Golondrina," the John Steven McGroarty play now being performed at the Mission Playhouse at San Gabriel, and between 500 and 600 persons from the various towns in the valley attended the play. Between 150 and 200 persons attended from Van Nuys alone. At 6:15 p.m. today numbers of autos began assembling by prearranged plan in front of the Chamber of Commerce and all empty seats were filled with those who were without auto conveyance. The party started at 6:30 p.m., the long caravan being headed by George W. Bunton, secretary of the Van Nuys chamber. Mr. McGroarty was in Van Nuys day before yesterday and arranged for reserved seats for certain of the leading citizens here. TOO BASHFUL TO REGISTER AT HOTEL

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

ALHAMBRA, May 6.—Although he had $45 in bills in his pocket, Berger Larson, 35 years of age, was too timid to seek accommodations at a hotel or rooming-huse, and so arranged to spend the night in a vacant lot near Fremont and Main. Police officers on their rounds last night spied Larson, who was peacefully sleeping on the ground.

They overcame his bashfulness enough to induce him to accept lodgings at the City Jail, and he checked out this morning. Larson came to this country two weeks ago from Sweden, he told the police in broken English, and had not yet grown accustomed to American ways.

BARN NOT A HOME

Federal Judge Rules Constitution Not Designed to Protect Animals

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, May 6.—The Fourth and Fifth amendments to the Constitution of the United States, rendering inviolable the sanctity of the home has no bearing on a barn used as sleeping quarters, when liquor is kept in the barn, Judge Paul J. McCormick ruled in the Federal District Court here today in refusing to dismiss liquor charges against J. Piccolo and L. Gatta.

The ruling was made upon a defense motion to suppress evidence seized by Prohibition Agent T. J. Niceley at the Piccolo ranch, where he entered a barn and made the seizure without a search warrant.

In the case of Piccolo the court ruled that the building was used as a barn and, therefore, could not come under the classification of a private dwelling, and in Gatta's case the court held that, while he occupied the barn as sleeping quarters, it was also used to house domesticated animals, and that the Fourth and Fifth amendments, invoked by the defense, were not created to preserve the rights of animals.

Plea of guilty to a charge of violation of the Narcotic Act brought Chan Gom of Visalia a six month's sentence in the Tulare County Jail.

Charged with conspiracy to violate the Prohibition Act, E. Giometti, O. G. Cervelli, Dan Barsetti, John Landi and Ugo Davini pleaded not guilty and were released under new bonds of $7500 each. They are alleged proprietors of the Europa Bar, a place raided numerous times by police and Federal dry agents. They will go to trial Tuesday morning. Trial is to start tomorrow morning of Mike Perrino, J. F. Browning and Tony Chiodo on similar charges.

Browning and J. Mongelli are also charged with violation of the Prohibition Act and will be tried later.

Oxnard Boy Scouts Put Over Stunt

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, May 6.—Troop No. 4 Oxnard Boy Scouts, has conceived the most unique idea of bringing about a friendly feeling between Boy Scouts of the world which is said to be one of the finest movements ever started by any Scout troop in California.

Under the direction of Scoutmaster M. S. Fullerton various members of the troop sent beautiful silk American flags to Scout headquarters of every nation in the world where there are Boy Scouts. A letter accompanied the flag explaining that the Oxnard troop wished a flag of that country in exchange for the Stars and Stripes.

Today the local Scouts are delighted by the receipt of a beautiful flag from Belgium, sent by the Boy Scout commissioner of that nation in return for the American flag received there. The Belgian official thanked the local boys and highly commended them for their idea.

A letter fro mthe Scout headquarters in France stated that a flag is on the way and the boys here are eagerly awaiting its arrival. Other flags are expected to follow. The arrival of the first flag caused great excitement among the boys. They sent out some forty or more national banners to different parts of the world and hope to receive that many in return.

When they have been received the local Scouts will have the greatest collection of flags of nations of any troop in the country.

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

McManus, prominent local business man, who was injured when his car overturned at the Bannister railroad crossing ten miles from Bakersfield, as the brakes were thrown on suddenly to avoid collision with an oncoming passenger train, is reported improving at the hospital, where he is confined with a fractured left leg.

Mr. McManus's two children, Tom, Jr., 3 years of age, and Loretto, aged 18 months, and his brother, Arthur McManus, who was driving at the time of the accident, escaped injury. The crossing is reported to be dangerous and the driver did not see the oncoming train until the machine was within a short distance of the track. Mr. McManus stopped the car abruptly to avoid collision with the train and the auto overturned.

THIEF GETS MONEY WHILE WOMAN PRAYS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

OXNARD, May 6.—Church, gold and music featured a robbery here last night in which the life savings of a Mexican woman disappeared. The aged woman who had accumulated about $100 which had long ago been changed into gold coin, was attending church. While she was at prayer some one pried open the lock of a trunk and took the gold. Discovery of the theft also showed that the thief had an ear for music. He took a guitar. It is believed that the musical strains of the instrument may lead to his capture. The good old woman is now praying that her gold and guitar will be returned.

Fresno Knight in Command of Catholic Order

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

FRESNO, May 6.—M. E. Griffith of Fresno was unanimously elected State Deputy of the Knights of Columbus, succeeding Thomas White of Los Angeles, at a session of the convention here late this afternoon. Griffith was placed in nomination by Frank A. McCheil of Sacramento, past junior State deputy, and his election to the position was conceded.

San Francisco won the 1926 convention of the organization after a welcome had been extended by Archbishop E. J. Hanna of San Francisco, who addressed the gathering today. Strength for San Jose, which had been conceded strong enough to win the 1926 gathering, faded after the invitation extended by the Archbishop, but the convention decided to swing to San Jose in 1927, this setting the convention meeting place for the next two years.

The principal address of today's session was delivered by Archbishop Hanna, who came to Fresno today from Chicago. In concluding his remarks he said:

"If the things for which the Knights of Columbus stand are lived up to by you people here, you not only will be true to the higher things of life, but to the ideals of true American citizens, the Constitution, to the home and the laws of the land," he said.

The expedition is headed by Dr. Fisk and Lr. Williams. The latter accompanied by Mr. Searl will precede the expedition a month. His home is in Hemet.

FIRE IN BUSINESS PART OF VAN NUYS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

VAN NUYS, May 6.—Late yesterday afternoon a fire broke out in the rear of the new Segner Store, burning up a one-story frame building that recently had been vacated. Prompt response by the local fire department arrested what at first looked like a large fire. Rubbish alongside the building caught first. Flames after destroying the frame building were being fanned toward the Segner Store when the firemen arrived. The blaze was in the heart of the downtown Van Nuys business district.

MAYOR TO SUE CITY FOR PAY

Clerk Holds Up Warrants for Salary

Refuses to Allow Recent Increases

Question May be Submitted to Electors

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

POMONA, May 6.—Faced with the inconvenience of going unpaid for at least two months, Mayor Park and Councilmen Lindsey and Dunlap will start mandamus proceedings next week to compel the city to issue warrants on their demands filed under the new salary scale.

The April demands of the three officials are now in the hands of City Clerk Thomas Trotter, who today refused to audit the bills made out on a basis of salaries of $5000 annually for the Mayor and $900 annually for Councilmen. These amounts accord with those determined in an ordinance passed by the former City Council and became effective March 13.

Attorneys will be employed by the Mayor and two Councilmen next week and legal proceedings started at once.

Warrants will be drawn as usual for other Councilmen at the old salary rate and for other city officials whose salaries have been increased. Councilmen Afflerbaugh and Adamson, the two hold-over Councilmen who have yet two years to serve, will be paid under the old salary schedule, while the City Clerk, City Attorney, tax assessor and police judge will be paid under the increase authorization.

Mayor Park predicted today that the court would allow no increased salaries for at least two years and that he believed the only way in which salaries could legally be increased would be by the voting of a new city charter which action would have to be approved by the State Legislature, which does not convene until the spring of 1927.

Trotter's action in refusing to audit the increased salary warrants is on advice of City Attorney Allard and is merely a precaution, which he feels should be taken to protect himself in case the increases are held illegal.

Circumstance Unsafe Guide, Says Attorney

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

LONG BEACH, May 6.—Although Dep. Dist.-Atty. Burr Brown's chief job in life is to convict offenders in court, from now on he is going to fight shy of cases based only on circumstantial evidence. Just how far astray one may be led by this kind of evidence was proven to him last night at his own home.

With the interest of a true chicken fancier, the deputy prosecutor was making frequent trips to the nest of a setting hen to count his chicks as they were hatched.

On one such trip, after peering beneath the setting biddy, he jumped back startled. Nestled among five baby chicks were three tiny kittens. Brown, in amazement, counted the remaining eggs before he was satisfied that the kittens had not been hatched out along with the chicks. Then he discovered a mother cat crouched in a dark corner of the hen house.

The Deputy District Attorney separated the strange bedfellows and took a new pledge to be chary of circumstantial evidence.

AUTOIST RECOVERS IN HOSPITAL AT REDLANDS

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE]

REDLANDS, May 6.—Nick Jurich, of Beaumont, is in the hospital here convinced that he was struck by a truck which resulted in his injuries, while officers who investigated the scene of the accident which put him in the hospital are sure that the truck never hit his car. They think that Jurich was injured when his car was wrecked on a turn while trying to pass a truck at high speed.

Jurich is not internally injured, it is thought now, although at first it was feared he was. His wrecked car with his unconscious form beside it was found by Albert Sweeney, who brought the injured man to the hospital here.

The man is badly injured, however, with bruises, cuts and strained muscles.

DAUGHTER IDENTIFIES WANDERER

Amnesia Victim Found on Pasadena Streets Has $25,000 in His Pockets

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

PASADENA, May 6.—After having spent all day in custody of the police at headquarters, and carrying on his person money and securities valued at more than $25,000, Francis B. McElroy, 54 years of age, was identified by his daughter Emily, early this evening.

The elderly man wandered away from his rooms at the St. Louis Hotel here late last night and was found by the police early this morning. He was unable to tell his name or that of his relatives, although he did recall that he had lived with a daughter at 4289 Tuttle street in Los Angeles. He also knew that they have moved from this address.

Upon finding her father this evening the daughter told police that they had been at the Pasadena hotel for two days, and that the elderly man had come to California from Tucson. She also said that the family lived for many years at Jutheric Center, Iowa, where the father had accumulated quite a fortune. He had always feared to keep his money in banks, which fact accounted for his possession of so large an amount of currency.

The man was picked up at an early hour today by officer Schad, who found him wandering aimlessly about the city. When searched, $12,000 worth of government treasury certificates, $6300 worth of uncashed checks and a stack of $100 bills three inches thick were found in the man's pockets.

By checks on his person police identified the man as F. B. McElroy, apparently a wealthy Iowa farmer. One of the checks was drawn on the National Bank of Omaha and was written several months ago.

McElroy could tell detectives little of his past life other than that he had a daughter, Emily, living somewhere. He remembered hazily of being driven to Pasadena in an automobile, but could give no clew as to the driver of the car or when he made the trip.

They will be offered at par and accrued interest in denominations of $500 and $1000.

One of the valuable assets of the company is the Trinity Auditorium, which is the second largest assembly room available for rental in Los Angeles.

The Hotel Trinity property, with a valuation of more than $1,000,000, is doing a favorable business. Last year the hotel's receipts totaled more than $200,000.

FINANCE HOMES

During the past thirty days, the Los Angeles Investment Company completed two homes in View Tract, and sold each of them the morning advertised, one for $16,000 and the other for $19,500. Plans are now out for seventeen additional homes in this section in addition to a number of others now well under construction. Between fifty and sixty homes are under construction in Fairview Heights.

The Los Angeles Investment Company is receiving a royalty of approximately $1000 a month from the Standard Oil Company of California from the various leases on its tracts. The production on the leases is approximately 1000 barrels daily. Wells No. 4 and 5 are showing a daily production of 550 and 250 barrels, respectively. Well No. 3 is expected in this week, which will complete the proving up of 200 acres.

The quotation yesterday of Los Angeles Investment Company stock on the Los Angeles Stock Exchange showed sales around $5.60. Since the first of May the stock has been selling from $5.56 to $5.58, and during the month of April the average was from $4.52 to $5.66.

General Motors Show Profit

Net earnings of the General Motors Corporation for the first quarter of 1925 totaled $17,811,229, it is stated in the quarterly report released yesterday. After deducting preferred dividends, $15,900,879 remained for the common stock, equivalent to $3.08 a share on the 5,161,509 shares outstanding, or at the annual rate of $12.32 a share. This compares with $3.42 a share for the first quarter of 1924 and $3.42 a share for the same period of 1923.

During the first quarter General Motors sold 155,432 cars of all descriptions to dealers, and the dealers sold to consumers a total of 135,882 vehicles. Sales to dealers were substantially 20,000 cars in excess of sales to users, whereas in the first quarter of 1924 the excess was approximately 75,000. The corporation explains this by the statement that the production policy adopted a year ago demands close harmony of the manufacturing program with the trend of sales to consumers. In the opinion of the company, General Motors now enters the second quarter with subnormal stocks, in contrast with a heavy excess in the corresponding period in last year.

BAD CHECKS

The following bulletin on bad-check writing was issued yesterday by the forgery detail of the Los Angeles police department detective bureau:

Local merchants are warned to accept no checks issued by the following described bad check artist, who has been using the name of Frank Collins: American, 5 feet 10 inches tall, weight about 200 pounds, heavy set, dark hair, smooth shaven, medium dark complexion, about 45 years of age. Occupation meat cutter. Wears dark clothes and is said to be a neat dresser.

This man has been victimizing customers of former employees in the meat business, and butchers and meat dealers are particularly cautioned regarding his activities.

ADVERTISERS PAY HUGE BILL

Space Used Last Year in Los Angeles Newspapers Cost Nearly $20,000,000; "Times" Prints Most

BY EARLE E. CROWE

Does advertising pay? Ask the merchants who bought space in Los Angeles newspapers last year. They paid the surprising amount of nearly $20,000,000 to tell their stories to the people. These messages were printed in the six daily newspapers in this city and utilized more than 6,000,000 inches of space.

This record is another evidence of business prosperity in Los Angeles, for advertising expenditures have come to be accepted as a reliable index of general trade conditions. Economists now believe that the fluctuations in advertising figures are practically as valuable for barometrical purposes as carloadings, bank clearings, pig-iron production and other indices of trade. Advertisers are considered the best judges of trend in consumer demand, and apparently an index figure of the space used by the various business enterprises is representative of actual and prospective business conditions.

REFLECTS BUSINESS

On this basis, Los Angeles clearly is entitled to a "prosperity" rating. Some idea of the huge amount expended for newspaper advertising here is obtained from a comparison with the total spent for national magazine advertising last year. The Crowell Publishing Company estimates that magazine advertising in 1924 amounted to $110,000,000. Since this amount was collected from advertisers throughout the United States, it is evident that Los Angeles newspaper advertising is a pretty big drop in the bucket.

In late years advertisers have paid particular attention to advertising policies. They are concerned with getting their message quickly and comprehensively to the consumers, and especially the right kind of consumers. Executives in charge of advertising are emphasizing the value of constant repetition, and more and more they are utilizing the newspapers that circulate among the people with the greatest per capital purchasing power. Here is the opinion of the advertising manager of a razor company, who recently directed a $70,000 newspaper campaign:

"The results obtained by us during eight days of intensive advertising in New York City have justified our belief that the newspaper is without a peer in carrying an advertising message to the people."

He estimates that six months' time was saved by the company through its drive in the New York market. The company was confronted with the problem of crowding six months' business into eight days, and accomplished the purpose. In handling the campaign, the method is described in these words:

PLAN OUTLINED

"The first advertising copy was used to carry the message to the dealer. The second copy was used to carry a combined message to the dealer and the consumer. Then, during the eight days of the sale, the copy was written solely for the purpose of impressing the prospective customer. The result was a net sale of between $60,000 and $90,000 razors in the metropolitan area."

In the amounts paid and the space taken by the various groups of merchants in Los Angeles newspapers last year are found a suggestion of relative prosperity in the different lines of activity. And, incidentally, The Times printed 31.33 per cent of all the newspaper advertising in the city last year, compared to 24.92 per cent for its nearest competitor.

The largest bill was paid by the department stores. In the six dailies they used 849,667 inches, costing an estimated total of $2,757,169.42. In the department-store group are such companies as Bullocks', Broadway Department Store, the May Company, the Fifth Street Store, J. W. Robinson Company, Ville de Paris, N. B. Blackston Company, Jacoby's and Coulter's.

Next in the list come the amusement houses. They paid approximately $1,580,000 for more than 280,000 inches. The automobile and automobile accessory firms expended about $1,460,000 for nearly 350,000 inches, and the furniture companies paid approximately $1,063,000 for their advertising. Banks and financial firms utilized space costing about $1,042,000 and real estate firms paid $1,030,000. Firms advertising foodstuffs paid $930,000.

MAGAZINES GAIN

From the host of people who told their stories through the broad market of the classified sections, the newspapers collected the huge sum of $4,840,000 in 1924.

In consonance with the gains in newspaper advertising, the national magazines reported appreciable increases last year. Expenditures of national advertisers, the Crowell Publishing Company comments, have grown from $26,000,000 to more than $110,000,000 in ten years. Last year's expenditures topped those of the previous year by about $12,000,000.

The largest national advertiser in 1924 was the Campbell Soup Company, its advertising bill representing a total of $1,519,250. In 1915 the largest advertiser was the Quaker Oats Company, with a total of $736,289.

Seven manufactures each spent more than $1,000,000 for magazine advertising in 1924. They were the Campbell Soup Company, Proctor & Gamble Company, Lever Brothers Company, Postum Cereal Company, Inc., Congoleum Company, Inc., Victor Talking Machine Company and Colgate & Co.

Of the twenty-three classes of business, foods and food beverages led in 1924. The automotive industry was next and drugs and toilet goods were third.

Apparently, as some of the foregoing figures seem to testify, advertising does pay. At least, Los Angeles advertisers are under that impression, or they wouldn't have spent $20,000,000 last year with the newspapers.

Head of New York Exchange Reports for Year

Figures Declared Index of American Stability

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—The aggregate market value of all securities traded in on the New York Stock Exchange exceeded $60,000,000,000 on January 1, 1925, up to that time the largest total in the history of the exchange, it was revealed in the annual report of President E. H. H. Simmons, made public today.

"The past year in finance," said Mr. Simmons, has been significant chiefly as revealing the financial pre-eminence and stability attained by this country since the war in its full scope and its complete strength.

"Internal elements of weakness which had previously seemed to threaten America's financial leadership have mainly disappeared. Our major industries, with few exceptions, have adequately bridged the dangerous intervening years which followed the armistice and now are operating completely on a peace-time basis after the emergency financing of recent years. Over the whole country standards of living have been maintained at high levels and a very general degree of prosperity has prevailed.

Mr. Simmons expressed the belief that the unprecedented "bull market" which followed the election last fall, had been kept within safe bounds, the rapid succession of favorable developments last summer, including agricultural prosperity at home and European progress following the adoption of the Dawes plan, he said, were reflected in a swift enhancement of values and prices.

Wheat Market Moves Higher; Corn Also Up

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

CHICAGO, May 6.—Removal of hedges against export sales of 2,250,000 bushels hard winter and Manitoba wheat to Spain, of which the Grain Marketing Company sold 1,250,000 bushels, resulted in pronounced congestion developing in the May deliveries here and at Winnipeg, the latter market moving up 7¾ cents to a high of 1.80¾ and closed at 1.79¾, a net gain of 6¾ cents and went to 1¾ cents over the May delivery at Liverpool, an almost unheard of difference. May wheat here sold up to 1.66¾ and closed at 1.66 @1.65¾, gaining 5 cents for the day. Deferred wheat futures were influenced by the action of the May and gained 3¼@4 cents, with July at 1.54¾@1.54¾, and September at 1.47¾@1.48.

Corn showed independent strength with numerous stop-loss orders uncovered on the way up. The belief that there would be a scarcity of cash corn later in the season more than offset the present liberal supply at terminal markets and the slow eastern cash demand and the finish was 3¾@3¼ cents higher, with May leading. The latter finished at 1.13¾, with July 1.16¾@1.16¾, and September at 1.14¾@1.15. Oats gained 1@1¼ cents and rye 4¾ cents.

Outside interest in wheat showed considerable strength, and while there was nothing in the crop news to induce heavy buying, support appeared in the deferred deliveries on all setbacks and the finish was about the top. Foreign demand for cash wheat other than the Spanish order was slow. A decrease of 13,811,000 bushels in the world's available supply, making the total 189,641,000 bushels, or 49,000,000 bushels less than last year attracted attention. Immense profit taking was on at times by houses with eastern connections, which was regarded as for the account of a leading New York operator.

Offerings of May wheat were not large throughout the day and the advance was easily attained. At one time it showed 12 cents over the July and closed at 11¾ cents over, gaining around 1¾ cents on the new crop future for the day. Liverpool closed ½@1¾d higher, and based on the action of the Chicago market is due to come 1¼@1¾d higher tomorrow.

While there is no evidence of a corner or squeeze in corn, the charges recently made that there were has served to cause hedgers in the May delivery considerable uneasiness and there was a general move on to change over to the deferred delivery, with the result that the spread narrowed ¾ cent during the day, with the finish at about 3 cents discount for the near-by future. Numerous stop-loss orders were uncovered on the way up, and with light offerings the bulge was easily attained, July at the top showing 7¾ cents over the low on Tuesday. There was free buying at times by strong commission houses, and sentiment was generally favorable to the buying side despite the continued lack of demand for the cash grain. Cool and wet weather over the belt is attracting attention, as it tends to delay planting.

May oats went to a premium of, ¾ cent over the July, getting above that delivery for the first time in a number of weeks. Export sales of 300,000 bushels domestic grain were reported at the seaboard.

Liberal buying of May rye by a leading cash house was instrumental in advancing prices sharply, and there was more outside interest than for some time past. No export demand of consequence was reported at the seaboard.

Provisions were fairly active, but unsettled, with houses with export connections aggressive on the selling side, while packers, shorts and investors were the best buyers, and there was liberal buying toward the last by a local operator. Lard closed 3@7½ cents higher, with ribs up 7½@25 cents and bellies 27½. Deliveries on May contracts were 150,000 pounds bellies.

FINANCIAL CONDITIONS IMPROVED

Deposits of Arizona Banks Show Substantial Increase During Year

That the financial conditions of Arizona have been on the upgrade for the past year, is reflected by the substantial increase in deposits of the State and national banks, as reported by the State Banking Department. Deposits for the thirty-nine State banks and their twenty-one branches, and of the seventeen national banks totaled $69,772,391 for the year, an increase of $3,150,489.

The gross resources and liabilities are balanced at $81,560,221, a gain of $1,224,603, this despite the elimination of several banks during the twelve month period. Cash on hand and due from banks has increased by nearly $3,000,000, while bills payable have decreased about $1,000,000. Real Estate holdings have gained about $750,000, and loans have decreased nearly $4,000,000.

Notable in the liabilities column is the fact that the National Bank of Arizona, First National Bank of Douglas, First National Bank of Mesa, Commercial National Bank of Phoenix, First National Bank of Chandler and First National Bank of Casa Grande show no national bank notes outstanding.

Receivership is Set Up for Tobacconists

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—The American Sumatra Tobacco Company was placed in equity receivership today by Judge Goddard in Federal District Court on application of Harding, Tilton & Co., holders of a claim against the tobacco company for $14,420.

It was said that the company, capitalized at $17,000,000 was in condition to more than liquidate all claims, but the need of raising money for immediate expenses made necessary the receivership.

According to Louis Leopold, president; the directors have been unable to raise enough money to refund $2,650,000 worth of gold notes which mature on June 1 and leave sufficient working capital to carry on the business.

BOND QUOTATIONS

Prices Continue Strong

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—With the general average of bond prices holding around the highest levels of the year, business continued to expand today and the entire market made substantial progress.

Trading interest again centered in the unbroken rise of the second-grade railroad liens which during the past several weeks has lifted a score or more of these issues to new high records. The process of bringing these bonds "into line" with the rest of the market went forward today with an especially good demand noted for the obligations of the carriers in which favorable dividend and merger developments are believed to be pending.

Conspicuous strength was shown today by Seaboard adjustment 5s, Frisco income 6s, New York Central 6s, Erie General 4s and convertible 4s D., Katy adjustment 5s, St. Louis Southwestern 5s, Southern Pacific collateral 4s and Chicago and Terre Haute income and refunding 5s.

Buying of some of the western rail liens was attributed to the present agitation for an increase in freight rates for that territory. One of the best indications of the market's underlying strength was provided by a rise in United States Steel 5s to a new peak price for the year, above 106. Liberty bonds and other high-grade investment securities worked irregularly higher.

A feature of trading in the industrial section was an upturn in the copper issues, in which Anaconda, Andes and Magma mortgages participated. Oil bonds continued to move ahead and sugar company liens were steadier.

The establishment of new 1925 high records by Japanese government obligations marked dealings in the foreign list.

Bankers reported a good response to the offering of the $60,000,000 New York City bond issues today, most of the bonds having been disposed of at the close of business.

Following are yesterday's high, low and closing prices of bonds on the New York Stock Exchange and the total sales of each bond. These quotations are received over Associated Press wires, and to expedite transmission the closing is omitted when it is the same as the low, and both low and close are omitted when they are the same as the sale.

NEW YORK CURB

Public Utilities Lead

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—Another enormous turnover in the public utility issues featured today's irregularly higher curb market. Northern Ohio Power was the active feature, scoring up 2 points to a new high at 12¾ on total transactions of nearly 83,000 shares. The stock closed last week at 7¾. Carolina Power and Light jumped 12 points to 383 on a few sales, while Commonwealth, Lehigh Power Securities, American Light and Traction, Federal Light and Traction (new stock), American Power and Light and the American super-power issues showed net gains of a point or more.

Trading in the oils died down somewhat as a result of the cut in gasoline prices in New York City, although Ohio Oil, South Pennsylvania and Standard Oil of Kansas showed net gains of a point or more.

The new Chrysler stock fell back 1¾ points to 57¾ in sympathy with the reaction in Maxwell "B" on the big board, revival of activity in Stutz motor sent that stock up a point to 7. A jump of 2 points in Freed Eisemann was the only feature in the radio group.

Following are the closing quotations on the New York Curb Market, furnished by Logan & Bryan, members of the New York Stock Exchange, 626 South Spring street:

THE HOUSE THAT JACK BUILT

No. 9

Here's the trees and shrubs that grew
Here's the painter who trimmed in blue
Here's the plumber who plumbed so true
Here's the hustling builder's crew
Here's the timber nice and new
Here's the panoramic view
Here's the hills of Beverly too
That helped the man
To draw the plan
Of the hillside home that Jack built.

Watch this space for the house that Jack built.

LOS ANGELES MARKET

CATTLE: Demand was not nearly active for yesterday's moderate supply and only a partial clearance was made. Strictly good cows and steers met most inquiry, along with canners, cutters and bulls, but the inbetween grades were slow sellers and a good portion remained unsold at a late hour. Steer prices were uneven, generally steady to 25 cents lower. Yesterday's top was 9.35, paid for a four-car string of 1203-pound Imperial Valley steers, while several cars of Imperials still remained unsold at a late hour. Two cars of 1074-pound grass steers realized 9.15, while load lots of plain steers cashed from 6.75 to 8.85, with very common kinds downward to 5.90.

She stock prices were generally 15 to 25 cents lower, with spots showing even more loss, and only a partial clearance had been made at a late hour. The price spread of 5.00 to 7.00 took in the bulk of fat cows and heifers, mostly in odd head and small lots, while odd head of more desirable kinds sold up to 7.35. Canners and cutters held around the steady mark, the bulk going over from 2.00 to 3.75, with a few thin shelly canners downward to 1.50. The small supply of bulls was cleaned up readily at around steady values, the bulk of bolognas clearing from 4.00 to 4.50, with most beef bulls from 5.00 to 5.40.

CALVES: Calf prices dropped around 50 cents, yesterday's top being 13.00 for small lots, while the practical top was 12.50, paid for a load of good and choice 220-pound Californias. Three loads of 210 to 234-pound California milk calves cashed from 12.00 to 12.50, with several small lots of choice kinds at 13.00, while less desirable kinds weighing from 110 to 240 pounds sold downward to 11.00. A few choice heavies averaging better than 250 pounds sold from 10.00 to 10.50. Common kinds and over-weights were most numerous from 8.50 to 9.00.

HOGS: Although receipts were moderate, demand was rather narrow and only five loads out of the nine offered had sold at a late hour. Prices were generally steady to 15 cents lower. The price spread of 10.10 to 12.25 took in the five loads, averaging 153 to 191 pounds, three loads of the weightier kinds topping at 12.25. A few trucked-in butchers sold downward to 12.75, with a few pigs as low as 11.00. Packing sows held around steady, the bulk going over from 11.50 to 11.75.

SHEEP: Buyers continued to hold off of yesterday's lamb offerings, consisting of two trucked-in lots held over from Tuesday. However, the offerings were not highly desirable from a killing standpoint. In the general opinion of the trade, good and choice spring lambs are quotable from 13.00 to 13.75, with good and choice light weight shorn ewes from 6.25 to 7.00. Tuesday's report stated that "a short deck of 39-pound springers made 13.00," etc. This was in error, and should have read "a short deck of 39-pound springers cashed for 13.00," etc.

Heavy Buying of Utilities Rails and Motors

Crucible Reduction Affects Oil Group

Willys-Overland Issues to New High Record

BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE

NEW YORK, May 6.—With total sales crossing the 2,000,000-share mark today for the first time since the middle of March, stock prices advanced for the fifth consecutive session. Buying orders were distributed throughout the list but were particularly effective in the public utilities, rails, motors and specialties.

The news was mixed in character but in that industry, although the steel stocks held relatively firm. U. S. Steel common closed fractionally higher at 115 5-8, after selling at 116. Replogle Steel closed 1 1-2 points higher at 18 1-2.

Crucible price reductions in New York City and a few other eastern cities had a restraining effect on trading in the oil group which showed mixed changes. Gross earnings of the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport Company for the first four months of the year, made public today, exceeded $7,000,000 or about equal to the total earnings for the first seven months of 1924.

The publication of statistics showing that car loadings for the week ended April 25 had established a new high record for the year but were 36,000 cars above the week before. Further accumulations of St. Louis-San Francisco stock sent that stock up more than 2 points to a new high record at 61. New peak prices also were established by Gulf Mobile and Northern, Colorado and Southern second preferred, and Southern Pacific.

Air Line common and preferred were strong spots included Lehigh Valley, Missouri Pacific preferred, Texas and Pacific, Wabash preferred, Ann Arbor common, Chicago and Eastern Illinois preferred, Kansas City Southern and Pittsburgh and Port Virginia, all of which showed net gains of 1 1-2 points or more. Heavy selling of Union Pacific just before the close sent that issue down from 139 5-8 to 136 1-2, closing slightly above the bottom for a net loss of more than 3 points on the day.

Tobacco securities was again the most prominent feature in the public utility group, soaring more than 12 points to a record top at 121 1-2, nearly three times the year's low, established in February. Consolidated Gas, Brooklyn Union Gas and Interborough Rapid Transit each rallied 10 points to a new top record and then fell back to 162 1-2 on profit taking. Among the other issues in that group to break through their previous high levels were Virginia Railway and Power, Consolidated Gas, Brooklyn Union Gas, American Telephone, Montana Power, North American, Electric Bond and Share, certificates, Columbia Gas and Electric and Commercial Cables.

A sudden burst of activity in the over-the-counter issues sent the volume up more than two points above the high record at 718 5-8 on transactions of 100,000 shares. Central "A," advanced 1 5-8 but Central "B" fell back 2 1-2.

American Can was the outstanding strong spot among the industrials, soaring 6 points to a high record for all time at 188. U. S. Cast Iron Pipe jumped 4 1-2 points to 160 1-2 on reports of an advance in pipe prices. American Woolen preferred closed nearly 5 points higher at 75 after touching the lowest price in 10 years at 69 1-2. The common established a new 1925 low at 34 3-4 and then rallied 2 points.

Call money held steady at 3 3-4 per cent. Time money and commercial paper rates were unchanged.

Foreign exchanges ruled slightly easier. Demand sterling was quoted just under $4.85 and French francs around 5.21 1-2 cents. Norwegian kroner broke 15 points to 16.84 cents.

COTTON MARKET CLOSES LOWER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH]

NEW YORK, May 6. — Spot cotton closed 26 points lower at 22.55 cents. The cotton futures market developed a reactionary tendency during the final hours of today, after displaying a firm tone during the major portion of the active session. Nothing of importance developed in the news to account for the selling, but it was believed the traders were disappointed over the market's response to the weekly weather report, interpreted as unfavorable. Gains of 10 to 15 points were cancelled on the reaction, and final prices were 23 to 34 points net lower.

City Sportsmen

There is little wonder the "country cousins" become aggravated at visiting city sportsmen. John Gibson of Richmond owned eight live ducks he used for decoys. He kept them on a pond near town. A Kansas City sportsman seeing the ducks floating on the pond took a "pot shot" and killed five of the eight. The Kansas City visitor has been receiving congratulations of his friends on his fine marksmanship—[Kansas City Star.

One at a Time

"Waiter, the ketchup."

"Here it is."

"Now the vinegar."

"Here, sir."

"Where's the mustard? Why don't you keep 'em all on the table?"

"Too many gents mixes drinks out of 'em."—[Louisville Courier-Journal.

Summons Sent in $5,000,000 Peru Mine Suit

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

NEW YORK, May 6.—Summons in a suit to recover $5,000,000 from the American Smelting and Refining Company and the Northern Peru Mining and Smelting Company was filed in the County Clerk's office today on behalf of William Bell Taylor, and the General Minerals Corporation.

R. A. Guess, vice-president of the American Smelting and Refining Company, said today that the action follows the alleged failure of the defendants to fulfill a contract with Taylor to work his gold and silver mining claim in the Salpo district, Peru. The contract was taken over by the General Minerals Corporation, he said. The agreement, he added, was that twenty meters of ore should be worked each year, or that a yearly sum of $4000 should be expended.

Troops had been sent out to search for them, but the telegram arriving today stated that they succeeded in making their escape unaided and that they are well and safe. The two women and Doughty are British subjects. They had gone, together with a party of five others, some of them Americans, to Cuautla, a summer resort. TERRIFIC TREMORS RECORDED

Canadian Officials Are Unable to Locate Series of Violent Shocks

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

OTTAWA (Ont.) May 6.—A terrific earthquake, believed to have occurred somewhere at sea, was indicated in two series of tremors recorded last night and this morning at the Dominion observatory.

Observatory officials have been unable to determine the distance to the center, but they believed that if the earthquake occurred in an inhabited part of the globe the damage would be as great as that experienced at Tokio.

The first tremor was recorded at 7:42 o'clock last night and the shocks lasted for two and a half hours.

The second quake was registered at 4:05 o'clock this morning.
